FORGERY OF SHIP PAPERS PROVED AT RUM HEARING

Royal Commission in Victoria Also Hears Names of Liquor Buyers; Crucial Test Comes Today

VICTORIA (B. C.) Nov. 30. (Exclusive)—Evidence was produced in court this afternoon before the Royal Commission investigating the Canadian customs definitely proving that landing papers of Mexico were forged. The stupendous sums of money taken out of San Francisco and Los Angeles by liquor operators and names in rum row's book of who's who were divulged by witnesses.

J. A. Nosentoff, manager of the Manitoba Refineries, Ltd., took the stand this afternoon telling of how he had met a man named Rodriguez in Vancouver and received $15,000 in cash as initial payment for the liquor on board the Chris Moeller, now detained in port here. Since then he has received sums by check and telegraph from both Los Angeles and San Francisco, $9750 from Los Angeles, $22,750 and $16,000 from San Francisco. It appeared by the evidence given by him that Nosentoff received the money about the same time that Reginald M. Morgan of the eastern freighters was in San Francisco.

CARGO DESCRIBED
Nosentoff also described how he had bargained with Rodriguez over liquor last Christmas when the alleged Mexican said that he had several large orders for champagne in San Francisco. Nosentoff said he persuaded Rodriguez that Scotch whiskey is a much better drink. Nosentoff also stated that the Chris Moeller had on board for shipment this trip 7500 cases of White Horse liquor which did not come up to the government test for age and was therefore not dutiable. This he said was intended for the San Francisco and Los Angeles markets.

R. M. Morgan, in taking the stand said he had not operated in the liquor running business since 1921 and that as president of the eastern freighters, the company which had chartered the Chris Moeller, he was making his first venture since that time. He said

CAPT. LILLE RECALLED
Council said: "You believe the incredible, then?"
Witness said: "Yes."
Commissioner Wright remarked: "Truth, then, is sometimes stranger than fiction."
Capt. Lille again was recalled to the stand and was caught having made false statements at a previous hearing. When he had said his ship, the Jessie, had cleared for Escondido with ballast and stores it was not true, council discovered today. Lille admitted that he had taken 100 drums of fuel oil to the principle, which was in difficulties of the coast of California.

The investigation was adjourned until tomorrow. At the afternoon session tomorrow solicitors representing the Chris Moeller will be heard in defense of the Minister of Customs report on that ship and state reasons why the vessel should be given clearance papers. On tomorrow

PREMIER LACKS ENTRY TICKET

Stanley Baldwin Detained at Door at Reception for Dominion's Envoys

LONDON, Nov. 30. (AP)—When the Prime Minister of England goes to a party given by royalty he has to carry an invitation just like any of the other guests. This was revealed at a party given by the Duke and Duchess of York for the prime ministers of the dominions, who attended the imperial conference here.

Mr. Baldwin stepped to the front door of the St. James Palace, where the Duke and Duchess were receiving, and encountered a uniformed door man taking tickets. The Prime Minister rumbled about his pockets, but could not find the necessary card or even his famous tobacco pipe, by which he thought it might be possible to identify himself. The door man never had seen the Prime Minister before.

"There's a gentleman here who says he's the Prime Minister, but he hasn't got a card," said the door man to one of the Duke's aides, who quickly went to the rescue. Mr. Baldwin then was ushered through the doorway, where he joined all the other prime ministers who had not been so absent-minded.

afternoon's session hangs the decision which either will provide Francisco and Los Angeles with Christmas supplies of liquor or keep that portion of the coast dry during the winter.

NAMES BUYERS
Kenneth Hughes, following this action, took the stand and gave names of heavy United States buyers of liquor from the Consolidated Liquor Exporters, Ltd. These were chiefly Seattle and Portland men, having already thoroughly investigated shipments to California by large vessels.

Capt. Hittancourt, customs preventive officer, told the commission that his boat was not sufficiently fast enough to cope with the American craft, and told the commission in detail of some fourteen seizures he had made, many of which were American rum-runners in Canadian waters. He also gave a detailed description of the attack on the liquor carrier Comus by an American cutter, Hittancourt being on board the cutter at the time. It was that the American ship fired upon the Canadian craft, although before doing so he had protested to the skipper of the cutter that the Comus was in Canadian waters.

CAN USE STATEMENTS
Although the forty-one indictments voted by the Federal grand jury at San Francisco against officials of Consolidated Liquor Exporters, Ltd., are not extraditable offenses, Newton Rowell, counsel for the Royal Commission, stated this morning that none of the witnesses had the protection of the court so that information given by these officials, who openly admitted they were shipping liquor to the United States, could be used against them at the conclusion of the investigation. A long list of indictments against these officials are expected to be laid by provincial police when this commission rises.

LIQUOR INDICTMENT
ARRESTS EXPECTED SOON
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30. (AP)—Arrest of forty-two persons named in a blanket indictment returned by the Federal grand jury as a part of the government's move to break up organized liquor smuggling on the Pacific Coast, probably will start tomorrow, the United States Marshall's office indicated here today.

No effort was made to start service of the warrants today, the entire day being taken up with the clerical details incident to the indictments. Joseph Parente and Frank Baker, two of those arrested during a recent round-up of alleged rum runners, appeared at the Federal Building during the morning to surrender, but at that time no warrants for them had been issued. Later their attorney telephoned that Parente and Baker, and in addition, W. B. Ward, and R. R. Belanger, would surrender tomorrow forenoon.

In addition a representative of a bonding company appeared at the Federal Building with forty-two applications for bond. He said that he had been instructed by Consolidated Exporters, Ltd., of Vancouver, B. C., to post bond for all of those indicted. Consolidated Exporters is declared by Federal operative to be the firm name under which the alleged liquor combine carries on smuggling operations extending from Canada to Southern California.

While the utmost secrecy is being maintained as to the names of those indicted, pending their arrest, it is understood that about twenty of them are residents of the San Francisco district. The remaining indictments are understood to be against officials of the exporting concern, masters of vessels of the rum fleet and persons in Los Angeles.

Perfect Eyesight Without Glasses

through the Barrett Eyesight System

WHY do you wear glasses? Either because you cannot see well without them, or to overcome eyestrain, headaches, etc. Now there must be some cause for these troubles... and glasses merely enable you to see, while the cause continues to operate. Isn't it more reasonable to correct these eye defects... to remove the cause? Thousands are now doing this through The Barrett Eyesight System... and doing so... can discard their glasses.

Hear Dr. Wesley M. Barrett, in person, over the Radio

Each Wednesday at 4 p.m. Dr. Barrett will broadcast a lecture on "Conservation of Natural Eyesight" over radio station KMTR. Tune in and hear Dr. Barrett on this vital question.

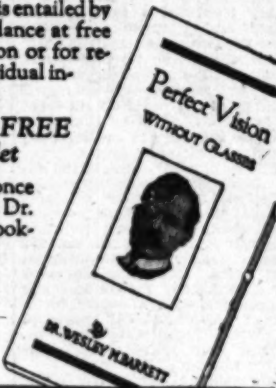

Free Demonstrations
Daily
11 a.m. - 3 p.m. - 7 p.m.

In order that those who are interested may secure full information regarding The Barrett Eyesight System, we have arranged a series of special demonstrations. These demonstrations are held in the Educational Department of The Barrett Institute, 1932 W. 6th Street. Come and see for yourself the wonderful work that is being done.

Also a special information department for individual inquirers is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Evenings by appointment. No obligation, whatsoever, is entailed by free demonstration or for receiving individual information.

Write for FREE Booklet

For those who cannot come at once to attend these demonstrations, Dr. Barrett has prepared a special booklet entitled, "Perfect Vision Without Glasses." This booklet has shown thousands the way to new life and happiness. It is free. Send for it today.

The Barrett Eyesight System is a complete system of eye training and treatment, for developing, perfecting, restoring, conserving and maintaining NORMAL eyesight WITHOUT GLASSES. Nature gives you but one pair of eyes. Why allow them to progressively fail when a modern method exists through which you may arrest failing vision and restore your eyesight?

Think—Before Adopting Glasses!

If you are considering putting on glasses, think for a moment the majority of those who wear glasses regularly, are forced to get stronger lenses from time to time. Why? Because the cause remained. Why not correct your eye defects, and enjoy strong eyes to an advanced age without the handicap of spectacles and failing vision.

Children, especially, should never be sentenced to such a life handicap as glasses. The brain develops principally through the eye. Why retard their mental and physical development? The Barrett Eyesight System teaches how to develop strong, perfect eyesight. Let your children enjoy youth and life, without disfiguring and restraining glasses.

All Eye Defects Respond

Nearsightedness, Farsightedness, Astigmatism, Undeveloped Eyes, Old-age Eyes, Muscle Trouble, Eyestrain, Cross-Eyes... all eye defects are subject to correction without the aid of glasses. The Barrett Eyesight System is the last word in scientific research.

Londos Battles Stecher for Heavyweight Mat Title on Olympic Program Tonight

Jimmy Has Edge on Speed in Crucial Bout

Nebraska Corn Husker None Too Steady

Husky Opponent May Capture Joe's Crown

A mighty little man faces a good big man on the wrestling mat tonight when Joe Stecher stakes his world's heavyweight title against Jimmy Londos, popular Greek, at the Olympic Auditorium.

Londos, a "little man" in mat parlance where they are underlined until they attain the proportions of a giant, is a small horse who is up to the top of the horse's head at 235 pounds and is expected to win the title and in doing so to become the first Greek to win the world's heavyweight title.

Like Fred Beal, the "Wisconsin Giant Killer," who threw the immortal Frank Gotch, Londos makes up in speed and strategy what he lacks in weight and is a veritable whirlwind on the mat.

OBSERVATIONS

BY THE UNIVERSITY STANDER, BILL HENRY

Big indoor and outdoor sport right now consists of speculation about the forthcoming U.S.-Notre Dame difficulty.

The opinion seems to be that the Trojans are an even bet—certainly that they have a chance to win. Just think how we have progressed in two years.

When the Four Horsemen came out here to play Stanford nobody would admit that the Cardinals had a chance.

Right now if the Cards were playing Notre Dame, they would be favorites and certainly the Trojans would be considered to have a good strong chance against the team from Indiana.

question hinges somewhat on the physical condition of the Irish. If they are right, it is going to be a whole of a game. If they are a bit off—they'll get well trimmed.

Among the many letters we have received, we find at least one who has a right to be regarded as an expert. Mr. Mose, an old-time player and coach, who believes that the Trojans have been improved as a result of Notre Dame's defeat by Carnegie.

This is quite contrary to the general opinion, but Mr. Mose thinks that the psychological effect of the long trip, following the unexpected defeat will be to inspire rather than to demoralize the Trojans.

Anyhow, we will soon know all about it because they'll soon be here.

Our old college chum, Lou Derr, may have a point in the hand, but they all seem to resemble the clerk of money. He has made wrestling pay where nobody else could, and the best exhibition of financial genius on his part consists in signing up a Japanese grappler for more than 500 brown-skinned Japanese paid their way in to see recently, and they seem to have the same racial feeling that the Irish do for Irish fighters, and the same for Italians here for Ralph De Palma.

The fact that Stecher is generally considered a one-hold wrestler makes it appear like a "hard winter ahead" for the Nebraska corn-husker. Joe's body seems to have no more effect on Londos' points but a year ago, which resulted in a draw, than a Nicaraguan revolution has on the power of tea in England.

Londos has a small waist and the body seems to be most effective against him. Jimmy also exhibited a clever defense for the grip in their last match and if he can present the same effective defense for the same night, along with his headlock attack, they should be a new champion.

Former Duke champion, championship match on schedule with Matty Matsuda, world's welterweight champion, is a "hard winter ahead" for the Nebraska corn-husker.

They are heavyweight, Lou Derr wants to match the winner with whoever wins the championship bout.

There is little possibility of a St. Louis Lewis showing on the scene at 3 o'clock today to weigh in and the 4000 folks of the former champion, which was posted to bind his appearance against Stecher, will be taken over by the State Athletic Commission.

Soccerites to Clash on Twin Football Card

Two soccer games, one a league fixture and the other a cup-tie contest, will be staged at Loyola Field Sunday afternoon.

Interpreting of cup-tie play with league games is in the hands of the police adopted by the City League module last year.

The league game features the Scots and Maygars. It will be played at 1 p.m. The cup-tie fixture brings together the Long Beach Kickers and the Hollywood Sheiks.

This game starts at 3 p.m. Both encounters are as high-class affairs and should prove strong attractions.

The cup-tie game inaugurates the play for championship in charge of the elimination contest, defeat automatically retiring the team from further participation in the competition.

This factor gives to cup-tie games a competitive spirit that often exceeds that found in league encounters. The teams have everything at stake on the one game and the exchanges are usually fast and thrilling.

Trojan Smoker for Old Grads is Scheduled

The annual homecoming smoker, a feature of the yearly celebration at the University of Southern California, is to be staged at Lee Court, line chairman in charge of the festivities, and will take place tomorrow night, starting at 8 o'clock.

A fine card of entertainment has been arranged. A boxing bout featuring Mike Waters and George Hendricks, of the W.A.A.C. will be the main attraction.

Between two of the Mercury wrestlers, a battle royal, who are scheduled to fight in the ring at once, and plenty of cigars and cigarettes furnish the feature entertainment.

In addition there will be a vaudeville program including George O'Brien, popular vaudeville star, "Oogie" Ballinger, talented "blues" singer from the university, an act staged by Jack Jennings, who are scheduled to perform for "What Price Glory," and "The Volga Boatman," and several other acts.

Grid Squads Show Classy Defense Work

NEW YORK, Nov. 30. —The attack in football, after a brief forward surge last year, again has told the checking influence of sturdier defensive work.

Records for the season just closed reveal the average scoring power of college teams throughout the country to be at its lowest level in five years.

These figures, covering the regular campaigns of 130 representative aggregations in all sectors of the gridiron front, show that a grand total of 13,960 points were rolled up in 917 games.

This is an average of 15.3 points per game, representing a sharp decline from the 1925 average of 18.2, and an especially marked drop from the 1923 figure of 21.3 points.

The decrease in the average game score also is notable for the five-year period, scaling from 1922 to 1926, the latter year showing a decline from 19.4 to 14.5.

COPS FAIL TO BOTH CHAMPION

Tunney Goes on With As Despite Court Action to Bar His Appearance

NEW YORK, Nov. 30. —Gene Tunney, world's heavyweight champion, fulfilled his theatrical engagement at Loew's State Theater today without further interference from the police, but his legal battle with the Athletic Commission is scheduled for West Side Court Thursday afternoon.

The title-holder was arraigned this morning for violation of the commission's ruling prohibiting boxers from contesting in unlicensed clubs. Dudley Field Malone represented the champion at the hearing and agreed to a postponement when secured by Dep. Atty.-Gen. Ullman, who presided over the case.

SURGEON CITES SPIRIT SPEECH

Psychical Symposium Gets Data on Boston Medium

Research Urged as Means to End Agnosticism

Prof. Jastrow Gives Reply to Doyle's Assertions

WORCESTER (Mass.) Nov. 30. (AP) The case of "Margery," famous Boston medium, was presented to the Clark University symposium of psychical research tonight by her husband, Dr. L. R. G. Crandon, "solely to make the point that it is considered earnestly; that it is apparently one of the best examples of this new psychic science."

Dr. Crandon, who holds three Harvard degrees, is a surgeon and author on medical subjects as well as metaphysical. He gave the history of the mediumship from its accidental discovery in 1923 through its investigation by the committee of the Scientific American in 1924 and the Harvard studies of 1925. He described in detail the manifestations and showed picture slides to illustrate them.

"Science is bankrupt on the edge of the grave, religion only offers a sleep comfort," he said. "Psychic research will not only kill materialism, which already is dying, but knock out agnosticism, which is the prevalent condition of our college graduates."

"It will prove that man is a spirit, that the whole universe is spiritual, that spirit is matter attuned to vibrations which our bodily senses cannot perceive in our present state of development; that death is a biological and chemical change and not a religious and holy affair except in so far as a birth, a graduation, a marriage, is sacred or holy or important."

CASE OF MARGERY CITED

The development of the mediumship of Margery, as described by Dr. Crandon, from the accidental discovery went on to table tilting, code readings, to the domination of the sittings by "Walter," late brother of the medium. Two months after his death the medium went into a trance and Walter spoke through her. Still later another stage was reached where Walter no longer spoke through her, where he developed his own telepathic organ for speech from the medium's body which whistled, sang and spoke when she was incapable of any of these actions by reason of a specially planned machine.

Other manifestations described were spirit fingerprints recorded on wax which differed from those of any sitter, but which were identical in tests of seven nights, molds of hands made by plunging into hot paraffin and then cold water, and evidences of superhuman knowledge and of a fourth dimension.

Dr. Crandon uses a special quartz lens in one of his cameras and declared that pictures taken with it reveal objects transmitted by ultra-violet rays which escape the human eye and the ordinary camera lens.

BOTH SIDES HEARD

rival claims for spiritualism viewed from a scientific standpoint as presented at the first session last night varied from the prediction of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle that it will reunite science and religion to the flat assertion of Prof. Joseph Jastrow that it is absurd and untenable. Prof. Jastrow, psychologist from the University of Wisconsin, opened the symposium last night in an address attacking the case for spiritualism as presented in a paper read from Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, author and exponent of spiritualism.

In answer to the assertion of Doyle that "of those who have looked into it, the vast majority have found the facts to be 'unassailable,'" Jastrow said: "We may give up the occult without regret. It is either psychism or psychology, science or pseudo-science we must choose."

"Less than 1 per cent of the men working in science today—in fact not more than about 200 of them in the world—are willing to give credence to the contentions of the spiritualists, or to believe any of the things that metaphysicians claim."

Turning to Conan Doyle, Dr. Jastrow declared, "he is mainly of interest as an instance of credulity, which is strange only because he is a scientist and the creator of detective stories in which he was wise enough to employ simple human motives and material evidence. Both these elements are lacking in his views on spiritualism."

The British author in presenting his side of the case admitted that one cause for weakness in spiritualism is that many of its supporters are uneducated and that "a retinue of rogues has been attracted to the movement."

EXPERIMENTS ASKED

He urged that experiments in psychical phenomena be safeguarded against such frauds so as to eliminate the danger of scandal. He suggested that seances be conducted in red or partial light to achieve results without scandal.

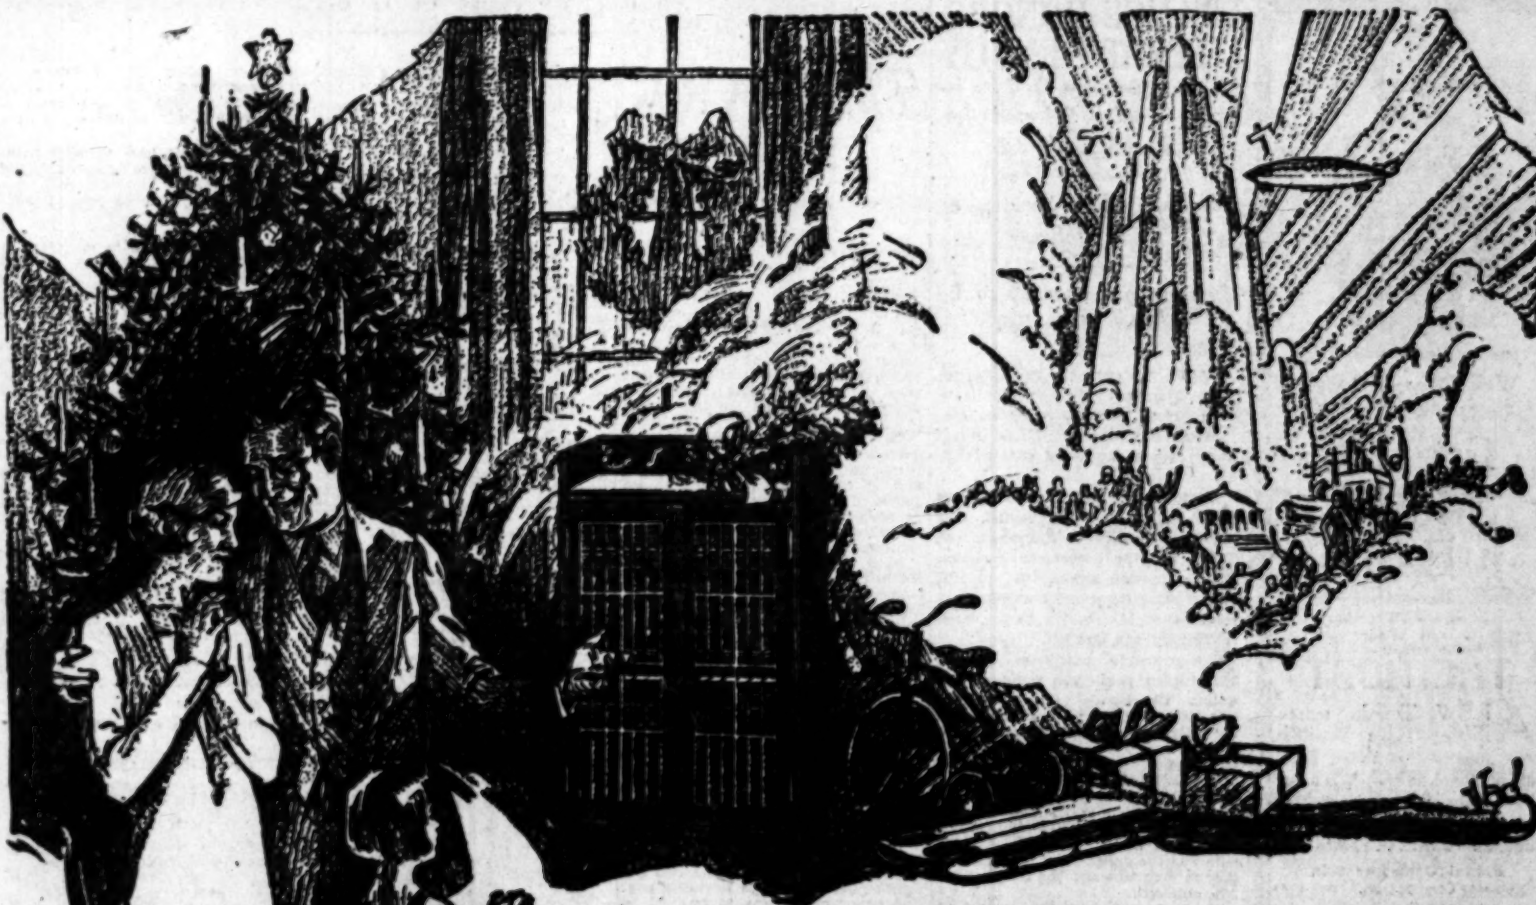

Doyle made this prediction as to spiritualism: "The ultimate result will be the union of science and religion, and such an increase of inspired knowledge as will lift humanity onto a higher plane and send it reassured and comforted upon its further journey into the unknown."

Pimples On Face And Neck Cuticura Healed

"Pimples broke out on my face and neck. The pimples were red and caused itching and burning. The irritation caused loss of sleep, and my face was disfigured on account of them. The trouble lasted several months. I tried different remedies but they did not help me. I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and they afforded relief in a week. I continued the treatment and after using three cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Esther Michael, Hilderbrand, Ore., April 21, 1926.

Clear the pores of impurities by daily use of Cuticura Soap, with touches of Cuticura Ointment as needed to soothe and heal. Cuticura Talcum is fragrant and refreshing. An ideal toilet powder.

Keep the Cuticura Soap and Ointment in your bathroom. Sample each free. Address: Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. L, P. O. Box 1000, Cuticura Shaving Stick Bldg.

Five Parties in Greece Form New Coalition

ATHENS (Greece) Nov. 30. (P)—A coalition government, consisting of five members of all the five political parties, will be formed on Thursday.

The present service cabinet, headed by Gen. Kondylis, will then resign.

An agreement already has been reached along general lines to return the coalition government will settle the thorny military question by appointing a special commission to restore capable Royalist officers to active service and eliminate the incapable ones.

The moderate Royalists have agreed to vote on a constitution and to cope with the financial problem.

The Senate will be elected in April.

The moderate Royalist organ hails the coalition as signifying the end of a decade of civil strife.

The DARK HOUR

By OCTAVUS ROY COHEN

ELLEN walked forward on the promenade deck to her favorite vantage point, the wind-swept corner beneath the bridge, where she could gaze out over the bow of the ship and feast her eyes on the un-flecked sky and the surging waters of the Gulf.

The lady quiet of mid-afternoon pervaded the best little, trim little fruit-and-passenger liner as it plowed steadily on toward the palm-fringed shores of Cuba. The majority of the passengers dozed in their deck chairs or had sought their staterooms for a comfortable sleep.

Ellen stared off toward the horizon. Somewhere beyond lay luxurious Cuba—and happiness. Somewhere in the Old World romantic fastness of Havana Macklin Garrison waited for her. No doubt he had already bought the marriage license—and certainly he had the tickets for their honeymoon trip across the Spanish Main.

Ellen was superbly happy, yet in her eyes lurked the light of olden bitterness and inescapable memory. There had been no honeymoon with her first husband, and little in their brief married life which was not soiled and bitter. They had been desperately poor, and David, indifferent to the report of his death in a railroad wreck had been a shock rather than a grief.

She felt a pair of eyes boring into her. Her eyes responded and rested upon a group of sailors lounging on the cargo hatch midway between the stern of the ship and the gleaming superstructure. And then she noticed one sailor in particular: a man tall and broad, clad in dungarees, shirt open at the throat, straw-colored hair tossed by the wind.

Her figure grew tense. She did not immediately realize that her future had crumbled in this single revealing instant. All that she understood was that her husband was not dead—that he stood facing her from the cargo hatchway, a sailor aboard this ship. It was like David.

Recovering from the shock of recognition, David turned away, but she gestured him to wait. She descended to the main deck and moved forward to meet him. They met by the railing, and, with woman's intuition, she read in his eyes the same blaze of passion which had held her to him so long after her own response had died.

He did not wait for her to speak. "I didn't know you were aboard, Ellen. Truly I didn't. I wouldn't have let you see me."

Her eyes were hostile. "And you would have permitted me to become a bigamist?"

"A bigamist?"

"Yes. They reported you dead. Your body was identified. I heard nothing from you. And now I am on my way to Havana to marry Macklin Garrison."

He winced imperceptibly. "Garrison? I remember him. A fine chap, Ellen." He hesitated. "You love him?"

"Yes."

"I am glad. He is the right sort. Not a lazy ne'er-do-well like myself. He would never have gone for years—this way—without letting you know."

"Why didn't you, David?"

"I intended never to. I loved you too well to live with you when I knew you didn't love me. I'm not the sort of man for you, Garrison is—and I know he will make you very, very happy."

"Oh, David! Can't you see that you haven't changed? Can't you see what you have done for me?"

"Why, Ellen—"

"I can't marry Macklin now. I am not a widow—I am a married woman. There must be divorce—publicity—delay. The glove will be rubbed from romance. Oh, David, I am so glad you are alive—and so sorry I didn't know it."

"Would it have made any difference?"

"Of course. . . . But not with you. You knew that our love was dead. You understood that I was merely loyal. You weren't meant to be married. This is your sort of life—selfish, indolent, drowsy."

"You—you couldn't go ahead with Garrison—and simply say nothing?"

"Don't be absurd. Commit bigamy? No. I shall have to tell him. Then will come my return to the States and the grim, forbidding divorce courts. I am so glad and so sorry. . . . As usual, David, you haven't meant to hurt me; and, as usual, you have hurt me."

He stared at her through pain-filled eyes. "I wouldn't do anything to hurt you, Ellen. I'm no good. But I have always loved you. I wonder—"

"If you won't talk to me again in the morning? We'll reach Havana about noon. And meanwhile, don't be afraid. I signed up under the name of Jansen. Jansen is the only name I'm known by."

She promised—then sought her stateroom. She ate a scant dinner there, and later, when sleep would not come, she took an anodyne and knew nothing more until the morning.

When she went forward on the promenade next morning the faint blue skyline of Cuba was faintly discernible. And as she stood looking for her husband a figure glided, resplendent in white and gold, the captain—a hearty, taciturn person, who said:

"Didn't see you at dinner last night."

"No. I wasn't feeling well. I took an anodyne—and slept."

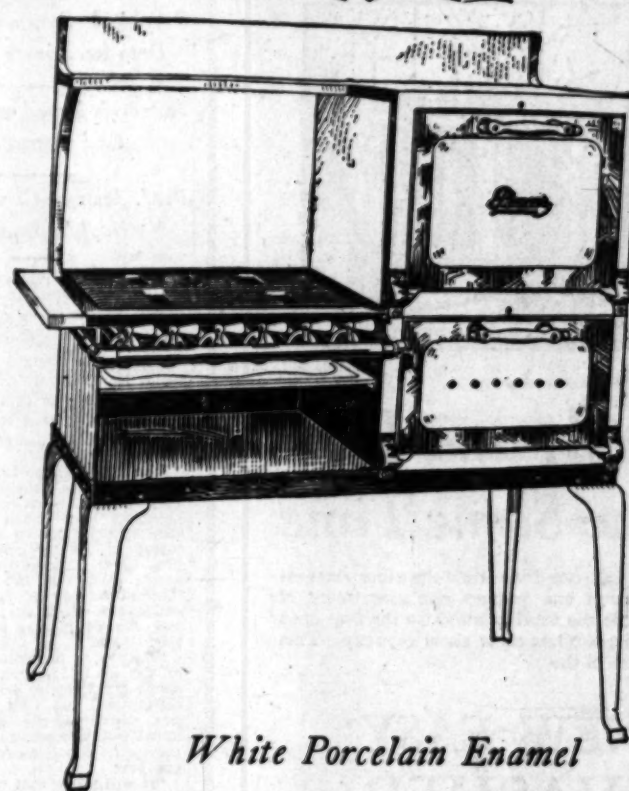

"Ill, eh? Too bad. At any rate, it's just as well you weren't on deck last night. Deceitful unpleasant thing happened. One of the sailors went overboard. Drowned. Man named Jansen."

Each year since 1923, the church has aimed to raise $18,000.00 for missionary and education. The most it has raised is $10,000.00, J. Williamson, a banker and church committee member, pointed out.

CHICAGO, Nov. 30. (AP)—The Presbyterian Church budget for home and foreign missions and Christian education, set at $15,000,000 a year for the last three years and never estimated, will be cut to $12,000,000 for 1927, the church committee on budget and finance virtually determined today.

Each year since 1923, the church has aimed to raise $15,000,000 for its missionary and educational work and the most it has raised in any year is $10,000,000, J. Williston Smith, Philadelphia banker and chairman of the committee, pointed out.

The committee concluded, subject to final decision tomorrow, to recommend to the church council and the general assembly that the church revise next year to raise $12,000,000 for its work, with the hope that such a goal will actually be attained.

The finance committee and three other church groups met today pre-

CROSS-EYED MEN IN PANIC OVER LIKENESS TO BANDIT

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 30. (Exclusive)—Cross-eyed residents of the State of Morelos are in a state of panic. They have been fearful of their lives since last September, when Jacob Rosenthal, wealthy New Yorker, was kidnapped by bandits on the automobile road between here and Cuernavaca, the State capital, and later assertedly stabbed by his captors.

Those with Rosenthal at the time stated that one of the kidnapers was cross-eyed and since then the police and soldiers guarding the road have been on the lookout for cross-eyed residents. Seven men charged with complicity in the Rosenthal affair were at the time summarily shot by the police coming the mountain in search of the brigand's trail. But none of them was cross-eyed. Several cross-eyed mountaineers of the district were also shot.

A preliminary to a council session tomorrow, at which will be drafted recommendations to the San Francisco general assembly next May. All the sessions were executive.

The principal interest among Presbyterians in the sessions tomorrow and Thursday hinges not upon the limitation of grounds for divorce, but upon the deliberations of a separate committee, meeting coincidentally, which is empowered to consider the advisability of amending the Presbyterian confession of faith to limit to the single ground of adultery the church's justification of divorce.

The confession of faith now admits of two grounds of divorce—adultery and willful desertion—but defines willful desertion as determined abandonment which can in no way be remedied. The last general assembly authorized the committee to consider elimination of willful abandonment as a justification for divorce, and called adultery the only justified cause for severance of the marriage tie.

TREASURY OF COUNTY PLUNDERED

Masked Bandits Escape With $45,000 Tax Money at Plentywood, Mont.

ORHAT FALLS (Mont.) Nov. 30. (AP)—Two masked men entered the County Treasurer's office at Plentywood, Sheridan county, Montana, this evening, held the County Treasurer and a woman deputy a time point of a gun and robbed the vault of $45,000 in cash and a large amount of bonds and made their escape.

During the robbery Treasurer Eugene Torstenson was forced to his face downward on the floor and the woman deputy was compelled to stand with her face to the wall. Both men flourished guns when they entered the office.

After pillaging the vault the Treasurer and his deputy were forced inside and the door was locked. A janitor discovered them an hour later.

The robbery was carried out on the last day of the fall tax-paying period and as a result there was a much larger amount of cash on hand than usual. Treasurer Torstenson and his deputy were working after other offices had closed because of the rush of work, but were preparing to lock the vault and leave for the day when the bandits appeared.

BARNETT FREED FROM GUARDIAN

Oklahoma Supreme Court Orders Removal

Aged Tribesman Center of Long Litigation

Discovery of Oil Developed Riches and Grief

OKLAHOMA CITY (Okla.) Nov. 30. (AP)—E. S. Bailey of Oklahoma, who brought suit to set aside the agreement under which Jackson Barnett, aged and wealthy Creek Indian, placed large sums of money in trust for his white wife and a missionary society, was removed as guardian of Barnett by a decision of the Oklahoma Supreme Court late today.

The court held the appointment of Bailey invalid.

Belief was expressed by attorneys here that the decision would result in the termination of Bailey's suit in connection with the gift to the missionary society which has been on trial in New York.

CENTER OF LITIGATION
Barnett, who became wealthy from oil royalties, has been the center of litigation in Oklahoma, California and New York since he was married about six years ago. Charges have been made that his wife kidnapped him from his guardian and had the marriage knot tied.

The appointment as guardian of C. J. O'Brien, by the County Court of Oklahoma county in 1912, was contested by Barnett, through a friend. The case was appealed to the District Court after the County Court had denied a motion to set aside the order of appointment. In June, 1912, the District Court held that the County Court was without power to appoint a guardian and directed the court to vacate the order appointing a guardian. Later in the year, the District Court attempted to set aside the order it had made. O'Brien acted as guardian for a time and then resigned.

The County Court of Oklahoma county without notice to Barnett, appointed E. S. Bailey, who has been acting as guardian since that time. The court held that one of the District Court's decisions was made by the judge "in vacation," and was invalid and that the "judgment of the District Court of June 24, decreasing no valid appointment of O'Brien was in full force and effect."

"The District Court erred in dismissing Barnett's appeal from the County Court," the Supreme Court held.

The appointment of Bailey was held to be invalid because no notice had been given in connection with the appointment.

$50,000 PRIZE CAMPAIGN

The Times

LOS ANGELES

WEDNESDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 1, 1926

GREAT SPECIAL EVENT

An opportunity to win a beautiful $1475 Auburn Sport Roadster for only two weeks' effort!
Read the full details of this remarkable offer on this page.

BIG CAMPAIGN SOON TO END

"Times" Prize Race to Have Whirlwind Finish
Exceptional Interest Over Latest Prize

Subscribers May Extend Their Subscriptions

With the ultimate goal of $50,000 in prizes fast drawing near, candidates in The Times' mammoth prize campaign are nearing the home stretch with unprecedented enthusiasm, stirred to their greatest efforts by the double offer of an extra prize—the $1475 Auburn Sport Roadster—in combination with the $50,000 extra vote offer just announced.

Callers at the campaign office, located on the second floor of the Times building are showing a spirit of determination more pronounced than heretofore, and it is evident that the remaining two and one-half weeks of the campaign will be fast and furious ones. Letters from candidates in the outside districts voice the same determination to be among the winners when the final day comes. Enthusiasm has spread to friends, and in many instances, entire communities are solid behind their favorites.

EVERYBODY WINS
All eyes are turned toward the magnificent prize list valued at $50,000, and soon to be distributed among the men and women who have been most active in voting during the "Times" great prize campaign. Success for every active candidate is assured. In addition to the thirty splendid automobiles to be given, there are nearly two score of fine radio sets—the well-known Stewart-Warner make. Cash prizes are also included, and even if one does not win one of the regular prizes, a liberal cash commission will be paid on all new subscriptions the candidate turns in. This commission amounts to 10%, and will enable many candidates to annex a tidy sum for their Christmas expenditures.

Many Votes on Second Payments

New Subscriptions May Be Extended to Yield Thousands of Additional Votes.

Every new subscriber thus far secured by candidates is a prospect for an extension of that subscription. Many candidates are following the plan of securing "second payments" wherever possible, and their success is being reflected in increasingly large vote scores. Suppose a person has already subscribed for the Daily and Sunday Times by carrier for a period of six months, having paid $6.40. By paying $5.40 more, the subscription is extended to a full year and the candidate receives the difference between votes issued on the first payment—6000 and the total number of votes on a year's subscription—15,000 or 9000 votes for the second payment of six months. In other words, the first six months' payment yielded 6000 votes; the second payment if turned in now will yield 9000 votes, making the full 15,000 votes that would have been issued had the full year been turned in at one time.

WORTH MORE VOTES
Second payments may be secured by any candidate. That is to say, a candidate who secures the second payment need not be the same candidate to whom the first payment was given. These second payments are worth more votes, as already indicated, than the first payment, so it can readily be seen that candidates who secure second payments will profit generously in the matter of votes.

A big source of votes, too, is that where subscribers have taken the Sunday Times only. In many cases these subscribers can be induced to take the Daily Times also. Let us assume that a subscriber has paid $1.60 for a three months' subscription to the Sunday Times by carrier. This subscription, if new, brought 1000 votes. By paying $1.80 more as a second payment, the Daily Times also will be delivered for three months, and the candidate will receive 1500 votes thereon.

These second payments may be made to extend the subscription for any period up to the limit of three years. In all cases where the first payment was a "new" subscription, the second payment will also be considered "new" and therefore eligible on the special merit prize and extra vote offer now in effect.

SPECIAL AWARD EAGERLY SOUGHT BY CANDIDATES

$1475 Auburn Sport Roadster and $50,000 Extra Vote Offer in Last Combination Period

Immensely pleased with the opportunity of winning a beautiful $1475 Auburn Sport Roadster while on the way to a still bigger prize in The Times' famous $50,000 prize campaign, candidates are announcing their intention of setting a pace during the remaining days that will surely establish new records. The offer of a Sport Roadster, to be given as a special merit prize, is in conjunction with the $50,000 extra vote period and is in effect only during the two weeks ending December 11—one week before the campaign comes to its official end.

The new special offer presents many angles of appeal. For one thing, it offers the alluring prospect of acquiring a fine new automobile in only two weeks' time. It is open to all candidates now entered in the campaign, as well as to any other men or women who now wish to enter. The Auburn Roadster will be given to the entrant who turns in the largest total amount of money in new Times subscription payments during the two weeks' period ending December 11. A person could enter now, concentrate their best efforts in getting new subscriptions during this period, and have every bit as good an opportunity to win the special prize as the older candidates would have. As far as this particular period is concerned, everybody starts out on an exactly equal basis. Those who neglected to enter at the start of the campaign may now do so with every likelihood of attaining their goal.

All new subscriptions turned in toward winning the Auburn Roadster have an additional vote value of $50,000 extra votes are given on every combination of $30 of these new subscriptions. As regular votes are given on individual subscriptions as usual (see regular vote schedule below) the present double offer may be said to offer the solution to the crucial period of the campaign.

Many candidates have asked if it is possible to win the Auburn Roadster and still win one of the thirty automobiles to be allotted at the end of the campaign and the answer is "yes." The special merit prize which is now the immediate goal of contestants, is offered simply as an extra inducement for extra effort and winning it will not in any way interfere with the winning of a second car. Indeed, this would be altogether a delightful happening, as any candidate will agree. To own a snappy roadster such as the Auburn, with it, say, the $3655 Pierce-Arrow, or, for that matter, any other of the closed cars comprising the main prize list, would be a most happy combination, as many people have discovered.

New candidates have entered the race as a result of this latest prize offer, and word has also been received from several old starters that they can no longer resist the temptation to go out after the winning votes, and will be heard from shortly.

The nomination period in The Times' campaign will close in a few days, however, and those who are planning to send in their names had better do so at once, as no additional entrants will be allowed after the nomination blank is withdrawn.

The subscriber's complete address, as well as name, should also be written plainly on the remittance sheet. Whenever an incorrect or incomplete address is given, the subscriber fails to receive the paper until the campaign manager can communicate with the contestant for a correct address. By exercising care, much time and inconvenience may be avoided.

Regular Vote Schedule
On each subscription and upon each remittance sheet, subscribers are asked to indicate the number of votes they wish to be counted. The Times' policy is to count all votes unless otherwise indicated. (See below.) All subscriptions payable in advance.

The offer of a Sport Roadster, special merit prize, is in conjunction with a vote period and is in effect only ending December 11—one week comes to its official end.

presenting it will not in any way interfere with the winning of a second car. Indeed, this would be an altogether delightful happening, as any candidate will agree. To own a happy roadster such as the Auburn, and with it, say, the $5247 Lincoln Sedan, the $3655 Pierce Arrow, or, for that matter, any other of the closed cars comprising the main prize list, would be a most happy combination, as many people have discovered.

New candidates have entered the race as a result of this latest prize opportunity, and word has also been received from several late starters that they can no longer resist the temptation to go out after the winning votes, and will be heard from shortly.

Don't Lose Votes
By "Switching"

Turning in old subscriptions marked "New" is positively forbidden by the rules of the campaign, and candidates are warned to be careful in designating them when filling out their remittance sheets. All subscriptions are verified before votes are issued, and whenever old subscriptions are turned in as new, votes are forfeited. The official judges will also check the remittance sheets at the end of the campaign in order to check the votes issued, stopping the paper at one address, and re-subscribing under another name at the same address does not make a new subscription out of an old one. Careful attention in filling out remittance sheets will avoid disappointment later.

The subscriber's complete address, as well as name, should also be written plainly on the remittance sheet. Whenever an incorrect or incomplete address is given, the subscriber fails to receive the paper until the campaign manager can communicate with the contestant for a correct address. By exercising care, much time and inconvenience may be avoided.

CITY GETS NEW GROCERY PLANT

Piggly Wiggly Opens Large Wholesale House

Depot to Serve More Than 3000 Retail Stores

Los Angeles Rail Facilities Bring Enterprise

A wholesale house to furnish California products to more than 3000 Piggly Wiggly stores throughout the country is being opened in Los Angeles by the Piggly Wiggly Stores.

DISTRICT MAPS APPROVED

Two public improvements moved nearer to realization yesterday when committees of the City Council approved maps of districts to be assessed for the improvement.

The first district assessment map to be approved was for the widening of Laurel Canyon Road from Hollywood Boulevard to Sunset Boulevard.

The second map covered the district affected by the proposed paving of West Boulevard from Fifty-second street to Sixtieth street.

The establishment will buy directly from the producers and will sell to the 600 stores constituting the parent company and also to the 2500 independent stores employing the Piggly Wiggly plan of merchandising under franchise from the original company.

The Los Angeles wholesale house has already opened its office and Mr. Slattery is now engaged in organizing a personnel, which will be comprised entirely of local citizens. The establishment will be in full operation within a few days.

"Before deciding on Los Angeles as the location for this wholesale house, we made a careful survey of the State to decide which city would be most advantageous for our purpose," said Slattery. "We selected Los Angeles because it is located in the center of the section which produces the commodities we want and is also most adequately supplied with transportation facilities."

Ha Sido un Fracaso Economico la Exposición de Philadelphia

La celebración del centésimo quincuagésimo aniversario de la declaración de Independencia de esta nación terminó oficialmente hoy. La Exposición del Bicentenario se clausuró con un déficit de más de $5,000,000.

El campo de la exposición y unos cuantos de los edificios permanecerán abiertos al público hasta el 1 de Enero de 1927, por razones técnicas relacionadas con la liquidación de cuentas atrasadas, pero, oficialmente, todas las labores han cesado la noche de hoy a los acordes del himno nacional, seguidos de los de la orquesta sinfónica.

La exposición comenzó el 31 de Mayo próximo pasado en un terreno que mide 1000 acres y dice de ella que ha sido a la vez la que mayor fracaso y mayor éxito ha tenido en este país.

Le ha costado a la ciudad de Philadelphia aproximadamente $17,000,000, fuera de los $3,000,000 subscritos por particulares y empresa comercial.

El alcalde Kendrick sostiene que no ha habido tal fracaso. La Historia, dice, constata que se conociera hasta el año de 1926, y no se ocupará en señalar las pérdidas pecuniarias.

Creo el alcalde que los norteamericanos están ya saciados de exposiciones, y que esta será probablemente la última que se celebre en tan gran escala. Durante los seis meses en que funcionó la feria, se recaudaron en sus puertas como 4,500,000 entradas de pago, menos de la tercera parte de las que se esperaban los directores de la exposición.

En el Bihón del Congo Beiga Expira el Explorador Akeley

NUOVA YORK, Noviembre 30.—El Museo Nacional de Historia de la Naturaleza recibió hoy un cable de la señora Carl Akeley, anunciándole la muerte de su marido, el explorador, acaecida el 17 de Noviembre en el monte Mikino, sito en el distrito de Kivu, del Congo Beiga.

En declaración que hizo pública el Museo, dice esta institución lo siguiente: "La muerte del señor Akeley ha sido un gran golpe para el museo, porque, no obstante haberse sabido el verano pasado que padecía de fiebre, el explorador, los directores del museo habían recibido cables tranquilizadores, que hablaban de la poca gravedad del caso, y que anunciaban más adelante el restablecimiento del paciente."

El señor Akeley entró a formar parte del museo en 1909, y desde entonces trabajó con él. La gran parte del museo en 1909, y desde entonces trabajó con él. La gran parte del museo en 1909, y desde entonces trabajó con él.

Boxing Bout of
Lunch Box Men
Aired in Court

Details of a lunch boxing match were aired before Municipal Judge Richardson yesterday when J. W. Mires, proprietor of a lunch box concern at 1206 1/2 East Seventeenth street, answered charges of assault and battery brought by A. G. Chesney, proprietor of another lunch box concern.

It was testified that Mrs. Marie Mires and Mrs. Leah Bandy quarreled over conflicting title to a vacant lot at Ninth and Central avenue and Chesney appeared to back up Mrs. Bandy and Mires went to the aid of his wife.

Attorney Arthur C. Webb, for the defense, contended Mires was acting in his wife's defense. Judge Richardson dismissed the case.

Thomas Pusick, charged with burglary and grand larceny, yesterday was found guilty by a jury in Judge Marsh's court. He will be sentenced Friday.

Pusick was accused of being associated with Milton Reade, brother of "Tuffy" Reade, who was hanged for murder, Elmer Rodriguez and Charles Hoffman, Milton Reade and Rodriguez pleaded guilty to burglary charges and were sent to San Quentin. DEAN WARNS
COUNTRY OF
RED MENACE

Professor at Pasadena College Tells of Life as Member of I.W.W.

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent ALTADENA, Nov. 30.—A stirring warning against the organized and insidious efforts of Red propagandists to poison American life and institutions by the introduction of Socialist and Bolshevik doctrines in this country was sounded here today by Dr. Frederick R. Wedge, dean of Pasadena College and head of its department of sociology, in an address before the Altadena Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. Wedge's statements, which revealed the dangerous inner machinations of the various Red organizations, came straight from his own life, and every startling fact that he stated is a part of his own experience among Communists, Socialists, Anarchists, I. W. W.'s and other anti-social clans in America.

In order to know from the ground up the activities and aspirations of these groups, Dr. Wedge left Harvard University where he was doing graduate work in social psychology, turned laborer, stevedore and hobo, joined the I. W. W., and lived and worked with numerous Red groups as one of them, even going to jail with them in the big I. W. W. strike at San Pedro.

The menacing nature of these underground forces which are trying to topple American government from its foundations, was revealed in his experiences, he said.

Bathing caps from America are being worn on the beaches of South America, where warm weather now prevails.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Nov. 30. (AP)—Price movements lacked uniformity in today's curb market, which was largely a specialty affair. Public interest was again lacking, although pools tried hard to attract a following in a few special issues in which favorable developments are reported to be pending.

Oils displayed a slightly better undertone. Standard Oil of New York was active and strong on a revival of rumors that the stock was to be transferred to the "big board." Other active Standard Oil issues showed small fractional changes. A gain of 3 1/2 points in Tidal Oil and active bidding for Panpete around the recent high level featured the miscellaneous group.

New peak prices were registered by Curtis Publishing preferred, Hester White A. Great & Brock preferred, Prudential, and Universal. Pictures, but these were offset by new lows in American Electric Products A. American Electric voting trust certificates, Marmon Motor and a few others.

Most of the public utilities pointed upward although Electric Investors was a trifle heavy on reports of a drop in earnings.

To modify the preceding the closing price is quoted with the name in the low, and low and close when same as the high.

Wheat Market Reacts; Corn Futures Gain

CHICAGO, Nov. 30. (Reuters)—The wheat market reacted sharply today, with prices falling in the futures and cash markets. The reaction was due to a report that the government had increased the export quota for wheat to 1,000,000 bushels. This report was widely expected, but the market had not fully adjusted to it. The price of No. 1 hard winter wheat fell 1/2 cent to 1.15 1/2. The price of No. 2 hard winter wheat fell 1/2 cent to 1.10 1/2. The price of No. 1 soft winter wheat fell 1/2 cent to 1.05 1/2. The price of No. 2 soft winter wheat fell 1/2 cent to 1.00 1/2. The price of No. 1 hard summer wheat fell 1/2 cent to 1.05 1/2. The price of No. 2 hard summer wheat fell 1/2 cent to 1.00 1/2. The price of No. 1 soft summer wheat fell 1/2 cent to 1.05 1/2. The price of No. 2 soft summer wheat fell 1/2 cent to 1.00 1/2.

EX-MAHARAJAH SAVED IN PLOT

Three Hindus Detained Here for Designs on Life

Trio Captured in Auto After Slipping Over Border

Accused Group Countrymen of Slashed Nautch Girl

A carefully concealed plot to slay T. B. Raj, former Maharajah of Indore, during his stay in Los Angeles, was frustrated yesterday, United States immigration inspectors believe, when the arrest of three Hindus at the airport, 155 miles south of here, after they had gained admittance to the United States at the Calexico border by hiding under straw and blankets in the tonneau of a large touring car.

All of the three men, taken into custody by United States immigration inspectors, came from the same section of the country as the mother of Mumtaz Begum, the Nautch dancer for whom the Maharajah quit his throne, inspectors say. All of the trio were armed with heavy caliber automatics, the arresting officer declared.

Two men, believed to be Mexicans, escaped during the capture, but Charles Joseph Bowers, said to have been the driver of the machine, was taken into custody.

The men had offered $5000 each to be carried across the border, but immigration officials declared they learned.

The trio of arrested plotters, when arraigned before United States Commissioner Reed last yesterday afternoon, gave the names of Amber Ahmed, Parrot Abdul L. Latif and Shamha Ahmed Ali. They were ordered held under $50,000 bonds each on criminal charges of violation of the immigration laws, but it is believed conspiracy charges will be placed against them.

According to Inspector Beck, the trio were found crouched in the tonneau of the car under a number of blankets and a quantity of straw when he halted the machine.

The two occupants of the car who escaped leaped and ran when he discovered the hidden trio, he said. Beck expressed the belief that they were Mexicans.

Prince Photographed Leaving Train

Reindeer Team to Appear on Streets Saturday at 10 a.m.

Queen Titania of KHI Will Give Official Greeting

Christmas Plane Reported in Landing at Sitka

As Santa Claus neared Los Angeles, where he will drive his live reindeer team on the downtown streets next Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, definite plans to make his entry into the city a memorable event took shape yesterday with the appointment of a little girl to attend the official welcome.

Having in mind the wonderful reception given to Santa Claus last year, when happy throngs of children, who lined Broadway, cheered and shouted with delight as he drove his reindeer team along the thoroughfare, every effort is being put forth to make this year's party even more wonderful.

It has been decided that when Santa Claus comes frolicking into town again, with his reindeer, for a long daylight visit with the children, he is to be welcomed by a child representing all the children of the Southland and so Queen Titania, Fairy Queen of The Times Radio, K.H.I., has been selected to welcome Santa Claus and his reindeer. She is known to thousands of radio fans and followers of Uncle John's Children's Hour. Her voice has been heard by countless numbers. When she welcomes Santa Claus an unusual opportunity will be afforded to see his happy little girl.

As he sweeps into the city Santa Claus will halt his reindeer team and sleigh in front of The Times Building promptly at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. Queen Titania will step out and greet him. No doubt Santa Claus will take her up in his sleigh and let her ride with him. He will drive his reindeer down Broadway to Seventh street and will turn west on Seventh street and go as far as Flower street.

Santa Claus's arrival in the city will denote the opening of the Christmas season in Los Angeles. The spectacle of the jolly old saint actually in his sleigh, driving his live reindeer team right on the street before his very eyes is a sight that will live in the minds of the children who see it.

Astruc was given that Santa Claus will arrive in the city on schedule time with the receipt of dispatches saying he had reached Sitka, Alaska, in his sleigh, El-Li-Lo, on his way here. Upon landing at Sitka from his sleigh, Santa was presented with a big team of reindeer by the citizens of the city. In thanking the people for their gift Santa said he would bring it to Los Angeles in his sleigh to show the children of Los Angeles.

The public appearance was over. Once in his car the former potentate felt safer apparently. A reporter poked a disheveled head through the car window and asked one question. A blank but agreeable smile, set off by a military mustache clipped in the best British manner, met him. The window was slammed to and the silent interview was over.

At 10 a.m. Sir Tukaji was locked in his suite. With him were Miss Nancy Anne Miller and her mother, Mrs. Jennie Miller, both of Seattle, who have accompanied the prince's arrival in this country from Europe, two secretaries, two servants and the Cook's Travel Bureau representative.

SHY EX-RAJAH VISITS CITY

Dodges Cameras and Interviews, But Declares from Bolted Room California Beats World

Behind bolted doors in his suite at the Biltmore, T. B. Raj, the spare and lofty ex-ruler who is Maharajah of Indore, British India, until a nautch girl shimmied him out of his throne, kept his record of no interviews and saw if any pictures intact here yesterday. Up to a late hour, the ex-Maharajah Holkar had made but one public appearance.

As the Southern Pacific's Pacific pulled into the station Sir Tukaji, which is another of his titles, stepped to the platform of his Pullman car and cast one cautious glance outward. Banks of cameras met him. The remainder of the reception committee was composed of two negro porters, a group of newspaper men and women and one temporarily disengaged representative of Cook's Travel Bureau awaiting a fellow-traveler.

Grand Jury Will Hear Sensations in Coast Rum Ring Expose

FOUR CASES TO BE BROUGHT UP

McNabb Admits Part of Evidence Secret

Rumors Hint Indictment of Prominent Men

Arizonan Here to Check on Border Smuggling

Southern California's liquor stew, brewed by U. S. Atty. McNabb and R. H. Hanes, head of the intelligence division of the Internal Revenue Department, will be served to the public today by the United States grand jury in regular weekly session unless all signs already forecast fail.

"There will be three or four cases brought before the jury, two of which already are known," declared Hanes yesterday, but further than that he refused to comment.

"Several ramifications of the widespread liquor plotting along the Pacific Coast are still unknown to the public," U. S. Atty. McNabb admitted, "and for reasons best known to ourselves we have chosen to keep them under cover until the grand jury acts."

MANY RUMORS FLY
Many rumors involving police, prominent business men and persons known to have had connection with liquor activities in the past were circulating yesterday, but McNabb and Hanes refused to comment on their veracity, contenting themselves with the acknowledgment that not all have been disclosed.

The arrival early in the day of Maj. John E. Cooper, prohibition supervisor for the eleven Western States, and the scheduled arrival this morning of Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, both of whom were expected at the last week, created extraordinary stir among the bootlegging fraternity.

It became known as U. S. Atty. McNabb finished preparation of his four indictments that the government's movements were being taken and that special guards will be kept today. Several special deputy United States marshals were sworn in a week ago and have been scouring the Southwest for the "rumor mongers" believed to be the key to operations in Los Angeles or Canadian Consulate. Reported, Ltd., rumormongering house of Vancouver, B. C.

COUNTERTIFF HILLS FOUND
Phoney badges and counterfeit money attracted the attention of the Department of Justice and secret service units. W. W. Ashe, head of the secret-service division in Southern California, was away from his office yesterday and it was believed that he went to San Diego in an attempt to trace several thousand dollars worth of spurious currency received by "apartment bootleggers" as change after purchase of clocks.

The money was in denominations of $20 and $50 and bore strong resemblance to paper found cached on San Clemente Island several months ago when prohibition officers raided a deserted hillside hut. Parts of a printing plant were found on the premises, but a hunt for the counterfeiters gained nothing. Lobster fishermen in the vicinity merely shrugged their shoulders when questioned by Ashe and his agents. County authorities reported that several of the sea workers had received threats of death if they "squashed" on owners of the plant.

The scene of activity on checking the known run running of the great Southwest shifted momentarily to Arizona yesterday when John E. Udall, deputy administrator of charge of prohibition under Col. Frith, made a sudden and unheralded appearance at the city office in the Transportation Building.

FRITH, UDALL CONFERENCE
Udall was closeted with Col. Frith and Maj. Cooper for two hours, but when questioned as to the nature of his business in Los Angeles merely winked knowingly. The deputy did admit, however, that he was concentrating at the present time on border runners who are thought to be responsible for huge quantities of alcohol distilled from cactus plants in the Mexican mountain ranges and smuggled across by burro train.

The charged atmosphere attendant to the impending resignation of Col. Frith and the appointment of a successor became clearer when it was revealed from reliable though unofficial sources that Col. James W. Livingston had been eliminated as a candidate.

of the materials when placed on county trucks at his shop. He said that most of the materials were taken from the dump cart. Mr. Richardson had a statement he had made before the grand jury at that time that the materials were intended for the dump cart in Sweetwater Canyon. He demanded Richardson.

Objections were interposed by Mr. Morgan, who said the deputy was attempting to impeach his own witness. It ended with Judge declaring he did not know the precise destination, but was merely following out the orders of Davidson.

DRIVER HEARD
On cross-examination Mr. Morgan and Mr. Salles elicited the statement that most of the materials were of small value, as a lot of seventy-five doors had been sold for $5 and others broken up. Mr. Richardson was established at this.

"You can have all you want of them," Mr. Richardson, snapped Mr. Morgan.

"I have no cabin, Mr. Morgan," reported Mr. Richardson.

Daniel Lehter, a county driver, who piloted truck No. 203 on numerous trips to the park, was extremely vague as to details concerning his transportation of materials. He had trouble in distinguishing between the public and private park, and he remembered no building for the truck in many instances, he testified.

On cross-examination he identified two checks given him by Mr. Davidson as payment for personal services rendered.

Herman Palms, head of the Southern California Box Company, testified that he sold to Mr. McClellan a number of cabins and buildings for old lumber. These cabins were on property later acquired for county purposes. The testimony was included in the case for its value as substantiation.

County Auditor Payne completed his testimony yesterday morning with the identification of another batch of county vouchers for small amounts. These were mainly for expenses of surveying parties, which Mr. Ryan and Mr. Richardson declare operated on the private park.

PRICE REDUCED
Superior Real yesterday asked that a distinction be drawn between the county public park, called Big Pine Park, and the Supervisors' Park, called Camp McClellan, which is owned by the Camp McClellan Improvement Association, the stockholders of which are the Supervisors and other county officials.

Camp McClellan, a thirty-four-acre tract, was acquired first. It is in the forest reserve and is leased to the government at an annual rental of $180. Later the Supervisors purchased 950 acres nearby for a county public park. They paid $25,000 for this, after inducing the salesmen, Allen Jones, to reduce his asking price from $105,000. They then obtained for the county a grant in perpetuity from the Federal government on 5000 acres and then bought an additional eighty acres for $8000. Thus the county park has grown to 5840 acres, much of which has been improved with roads, camping sites and conveniences.

From County Auditor Payne's file was introduced Mr. Davidson's "amman" letter. The letter, as explained by counsel, showed that the owners of the cabins in Camp McClellan provided the cost of trucking and paid the money to the County Treasurer. The letter contained the last installment, which had just been collected by Mr. Davidson, for which he was duly grateful.

During the day the number of exhibits increased to seventy-five. Pertaining to the same facts are listed together, so the number of papers approaches 200. This seems to be a mere beginning, judging by the piles of documents on the counsel tables.

Chairman McClellan put in a good day's work, signing more than 1000 county bonds while the mills of justice ground on before him.

David M. Truitt, 55 years of age, who gave his occupation as a salesman, was arrested yesterday by Detective Lieutenant Johnson of the Hollywood division on suspicion of passing a fictitious check. The officer expressed the belief that Truitt is a motion picture actor well connected in Hollywood.

Truitt, according to police, is accused of having given a check for $50 to Miss Agnes Boyd of 430 West Second street. He is said to have come here from Clinton, N. Y. His address was given as 5555 Hollywood Boulevard.

Truitt, according to police, characterized the affair as a mistake.

ETHYL GAS WILL GO ON SALE TODAY

Antiknock Motor Fuel to be Sold in Los Angeles by Union and Associated

The distribution of ethyl gasoline, which is ordinary gasoline containing tetra-ethyl lead, an antiknock compound discovered by General Motors Corporation, will begin in Los Angeles this morning. The fuel will be sold by the Union Oil Company and Associated Oil Company under license from the Ethyl Gasoline Corporation of New York. The gasoline has been marketed in the East for the last four years.

It is declared of ethyl gasoline that it eliminates completely the compression or carbon knock when the engine is caused by preignition, and permits the use of much higher compression in automobile motors than are possible without it. It also eliminates the necessity of frequent carbon removal from ordinary motors, as the carbon is burned off by the compression knock, under ordinary conditions, is suitable only when the motor is being operated with the throttle wide open, as in hill climbing.

ETHYL GASOLINE IS SAID, has been used in all the A. A. A. automobile races of the past three years, and is being adopted officially by the Army and Navy for airplanes and the British Air Ministry.

EX-MAHARAJAH ARRIVES IN CITY

emerged from the suite and announced that the ex-maharajah was changing his attire. The breakfast table was set but the reception was just so so.

Couldn't the reporters and photographers lay off? They couldn't. More and better pictures were needed. So were interviews.

But Sir Tukaji was camera shy. He wouldn't even pose for his own secretary. And he would never, never stand for an interview. It would establish a precedent. He would lay himself open to interviews at every stop. A second-hand interview was absolutely the best he could do. So here it is.

Sir Tukaji has been tremendously impressed with the United States, and he has been tremendously impressed with the United States.

"And California's women," the spokesman was pronounced. "he hasn't committed himself yet."

Yes, he will use the studio and maybe he will meet some of the ravishing stars. And he has denied reports that he is to marry Miss Miller when he returns to India. The length of his stay here is indefinite. It probably will be about five days. Then he will go to Riverside and San Diego and from there to the Grand Canyon.

That was the sum and substance of it.

The ex-potential, who was discovered traveling in this country incognito at Salt Lake City, lost his throne about two years ago over the Mumtaz Begum affair. She was a pulse-accelerating, nautilus dancer who was the center of the erstwhile Maharajah's affections and went over to a merchant prince. The latter lost his life, the girl her beauty and the Maharajah his throne. The merchant was assassinated. The girl's face was slashed to ugliness. The British deposed the Maharajah, passing the throne to his son, now studying in England.

ANGLO-INDIAN TELL OF MAHARAJAH'S FAMILY LIFE
Some conception of the family life and the wealth of the former Maharajah of Indore, now in Los Angeles after losing his throne over a dancing girl, was given yesterday by Mrs. Lillian Trew of 1044 North Hyperion avenue, who was a nurse in the Maharajah's palace years ago.

Mrs. Trew lived in India twenty-two years. Her husband was with the Maharajah and was a nurse in the British army. In his absence on a purchasing trip for the British cavalry, she was left in charge of the palace. She succeeded to his father's throne when the Maharajah abdicated.

"Maharajah Holkar, who is now here, was about 18 years of age at that time. His wife, Maharajah's daughter, was about 16. They were a very devoted couple, very affectionate and the lives of both appeared to be wound up in that of the baby Prince whom I was taking care of as nurse."

"Maharajah Holkar at the time was undoubtedly a prince among the fabulously rich Indian potentates. I suppose that now he is one of the world's wealthiest men. He lavished such care and attention on the baby Prince as would amaze Americans."

HIDDEN FROM MEN
"According to the custom, Maharajah Holkar, the wife, was what was called in India, 'Purdah,' meaning hidden from the sight of men, and when she went out she went in an inclosed carriage curtained, with a guard of six horsemen riding before and six riding behind, all richly uniformed and the trappings of the entire entourage of the richest. While she would be leaving the palace for the carriage her maids in waiting would form in a row on each side of the walk holding up a canopy that hid down behind them, completely covering them and the princess from view. The horsemen would sit with their faces turned away and the guards would stand watching the horsemen to see that they did not look upon the princess. The same procedure was followed on the return to the palace."

"In the home the habits are of a primitive nature. For instance they eat with their fingers and sit upon the floor."

"Nevertheless they know all of the forms of European society and royalty."

CITY TRUST BOARD MEETS

President of New Commission Predicts Millions of Dollars in Bequests Shortly

The newly created City Trust Department met for the first time yesterday in the office of Mayor Cryer, organized, elected officers, adopted rules and regulations and announced that it is now in a position to accept bequests to be used for beneficial purposes.

F. B. Feltshans of the Board of that many persons will make the City Trust Department a beneficiary of life-insurance policies. President Feltshans declared that one wealthy Los Angeles man said recently that he is planning on leaving his millions to the city in which he had made them and that another declared that he will leave his estate to the City Trust Department with a provision that the funds be used to erect and maintain a large hospital for the city.

The new department was made possible by a provision of the City Charter, the idea being fathered by President Feltshans aided by George Dunlap, former president of the City Club, and Will G. Farrell and the legal difficulties being ironed out by City Attorney Stephens. In the near future a booklet descriptive of the new department is to be printed for distribution, the expense to be defrayed by funds appropriated

Jews Observe Chanukah Festival in Traditional Manner in

Triumph of Maccabees

"Down with the altars of Jupiter! Away with the dominations of the pagans! Back to the light, O Judah! Restore your temples to the living God!"

With some such cries as these thousands of faithful Maccabees, who for three years had been suffering under the Syro-Greeks and their own kindred, the Hellenists, rushed into the Palestinian temples, destroyed every vestige of paganism, won the day for Judaism and saved unborn Christianity.

The scenes which ended in the Maccabean victory were enacted 2001 years ago but still the great Feast of Chanukah is observed by every loyal Jew and the Chanukah holidays were ushered in last night when thousands of Jews in Los Angeles lighted candles in their homes and their synagogues. Tonight another candle will be lighted in each Orthodox Jewish home, the number of candles increasing by one

PLANS FOR EXPOSITION INDORSED

City Club Meeting Names
Committee to Further 1931
Celebration Feature

Unanimous indorsement of a plan to hold a mammoth exposition here in 1931 to celebrate the founding of the city 150 years ago was given by more than 100 members of civic organizations last night following a dinner at the City Club. In their addresses several speakers suggested that the celebration last a year or more and link up with the Olympic Games to be held here in 1932.

During the meeting a committee was appointed to wait on the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce and urge them to take the matter in hand and act as a clearinghouse for the various ideas advanced as to the form and nature of the proposed celebration. Members of the committee are John Steven McCort, author; Charles G. Adams, president of the City Planning Association; George A. Damon, Mrs. A. S. C. Forbes, history and landmarks club; Doyle Workman, president, Los Angeles City Council; Mrs. Florence Dodson Schonsman, native daughter; William Alanson Bryant, Los Angeles Museum; H. C. Lichtenberger, Native Sons of the Golden West, and two others to be selected by the committee.

Both Mrs. Forbes and Mr. McCort in keynote speeches urged that one of the principal features of the celebration be reproduction of the pueblo of Los Angeles, which should be made a permanent exhibit and remain a memorial to the founders, and that one of the numerous pagans should depict the procession which came from San Gabriel to the Old Plaza and there laid the corner-stone of the city. Both speakers and several others advocated surrounding the celebration with the Spanish and Mexican atmosphere and color of the early days. Other suggestions were for an era of tree-planting during the next five years, elimination of billboards, more parks and erection of more distinctive monuments.

Mr. Adams acted as toastmaster, and Mrs. Mary Belle Chapman, member of a pioneer family, sang several Spanish songs. Among others who addressed the dinner were:

Corra Monette, Laurence L. Hill, Rev. E. P. Ryland, Harry M. Schafer, John Bergan, Roger Noble Burnham, Chas. M. Cooke, George A. Damon, H. C. Lichtenberger, Rudolph G. Rivera, Dr. Bryant, Virginia Calhoun, Dr. Harry A. Worden, Frank G. Tyrrell, Mrs. Grace Hyde Trina, James G. Warren, Mrs. Charles F. Gray, David Farley, Col. F. M. Buelie and Miss Antonette Sabi.

Blake Orders Two Held
Who Testify That Police
Planted Liquor in Raid

Perjured testimony, declared by Municipal Court officials to constitute a real menace to the trial of liquor cases before that tribunal, and persons who resort to such testimony were bitterly denounced yesterday by Municipal Judge Blake at the preliminary hearing of Elmer M. and Albert A. Story on perjury charges.

The Storys were ordered held for trial in Superior Court after Municipal Judge Ambrose and attaches of his court, as well as arresting officers in the case, in which the perjury charges sprung, had testified.

"I hope this will be a lesson to such persons who may be inclined to make light of their oath to tell the truth when testifying in such cases," Judge Blake said.

Judge Ambrose was called to the stand by Dep. Dist. Atty. Marchetti and testified the Storys had perjured themselves in his court at the trial of Miss Beatrice Goosby on liquor charges. They said, Judge Ambrose testified, that they were at the Goosby home at 1115 East Twentieth street when it was raided and that they had seen Officer Randolph plant a bottle of liquor in the house. Officers Randolph, Rhelm and McCasaban, the arresting officers, testified neither man was present when they raided the house. Bail was fixed at $1500 each.

SUICIDE'S RITES SET

Public May View Remains of Girl
Known Only as Ruth

Funeral services for the girl known only as Ruth, who committed suicide Thanksgiving Day in the home of Adolph Schultz, a news vendor and her only friend, will be conducted Thursday at 9:30 a.m. in the chapel of the George B. Remington Funeral Home, 1183 South Flower street. The public will be permitted to view the remains from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. today at the Remington establishment. Ruth, who is thought to be a nurse, is believed to have committed suicide as a result of discouragement at not being able to find work after weeks of search. Schultz had invited the girl to have Thanksgiving dinner at his home. He left her at 4 p.m. to go to his newspaper and when he returned he found a gas-filled house and the body of the dead girl.

REFLECTIONS

happiness a little further than I did in the life of any true woman is her own; when she takes its little help, she feels its little heart pulsate against her there is a perfect specimen of humanity, of her soul. And the happiest moment in some one takes him to the bedside of a man, glad smile, she returns his kiss and goes out to him, huddled on her arm, the of that new-born babe and he realizes responsibilities of a father are his.

the operations of the day with prayers and closes with a benediction. I do not believe such a person is happy. Learn to discriminate between honest men and demagogues. Do not be cajoled into the belief that you can legislate chastity into women or honor into men.

No one must expect a life of continual happiness. There is so much misery in the world that some escape. There is enough to go around. There comes a time in the life of every person when ceaseless grief almost paralyzes the pulsations of the human heart, when even reason totters on her throne; when deep despair drives out all light and hope and joy of life and leaves each succeeding day ever darker and more miserable than its predecessor.

When we stand before the open coffin of one we love; when we gaze upon the face and pallid features of the dead—

"Before decay's defacing fingers have swept the lines where beauty lingered," when we look upon the eyes forever closed, the hands forever folded, the lips we loved forever silent; when we realize that we shall never again receive the warm embrace, the loving kiss, the hearty handshake or hear again the merry laughter of the loved one now lying before us cold in death—then, at last, we fully realize the immortality of fate, the smallest and the greatest of men.

We should all be happy while we can. We should contribute by our example, our conduct, our actions, our demeanor, toward the happiness of our fellow-beings, toward the happiness of those with whom we are thrown in contact. Remember that kind words, gentle actions, a helping hand to those in distress, a smile to those who are sad, it costs but little to be pleasant. A smile is as easy to cultivate as a frown. Cheerfulness will go a long way toward dispelling gloom on the part of others.

There is much misery in the world that any of us, by a little effort on our part, can alleviate. Not a day passes that does not afford us an opportunity of brushing the clouds away from the tear-dimmed vision of some poor unfortunate. Not a day passes but we can add a bright ray of hope to some despondent human existence.

In doing these things we will have happiness on this earth, peace of mind, contentment and receive an added joy in living.

Measured by time which is past and which is yet to pass, the span of human life is short; indeed, even for those who attain the century mark in years. It is shameful to waste any of the precious moments allotted to us in unhappiness which, very often, a little effort can avoid. Since the human race was created successive members of it move in a well-established circle. Some fortunate individuals are able to break through all the hardships and disadvantages experienced by those who have preceded them. Where others fall they succeed. Success should bring happiness while failure always brings misery and despair. Some there are who, by their own willful conduct, by casting off restraint and indulging their selfish passions to the limit, lose all chance of happiness for themselves and those intimately connected with or associated with them. Selfishness and a disregard for the rights of others are prolific sources of unhappiness.

As far as the history of the human race is concerned the past will probably be repeated in the future. While a "burnt child dreads the fire," it will not always leave it alone. Grown persons are much like children in this respect. In the face of previous knowledge of the evil effects of a certain line of conduct too many will follow the line of least resistance and pursue a course which they fully realize will destroy all their hopes of happiness. Such persons apparently never learn.

PURGATORY

There is a garden far, oh, far away, kept for the souls who sinned and suffered most. The sword of God forever guards the way; And round its borders camps a Heavenly Host.

A gentle wind breathes through the tufted grass, Rich with the scent of roses in their bloom; And with the wind, all sins and sorrows pass. Leaving a sweet contentment in their room.

Here are no troubles, here are no thoughts of sadness or despair; But fairest flowers in fullest beauty bloom; And softest sunlight steeps the dreaming air.

The murmurings of fountains low and sweet, Forever fill the ear, and never cease. Soothing the silence, with a gentle beat, Like kindly voices, speaking words of peace;

And here in mercy and forgiveness, The weary souls, unburdened of their sin; And cursed things are here forgiven and blessed, And weary hearts are made all clean within.

REYNOLD SHADWELL.

WEDNESDAY MORNING.

COUNCIL DODGES OUSTER INQUIRY

Board of Public Works Gets Show Affidavit

Engineers' Petition Charges Official Menaced

Randall Criticizes Action of Fellow Members

The petitioning engineers asked the Council to investigate the matter as a public work commissioner was involved, and Councilman Randall, chairman of the Council Public Works Committee, asked that the petition be sent to his committee. It was this committee that investigated the West Adams street storm drain case until halted by an injunction obtained by Peter B. Gadd, the West Adams street storm drain contractor. Councilman Gadd and Commissioner Dunn at the time of the hearings were as infuriated against Councilman Randall, chairman of the Public Works Committee, as they were against City Engineer Shaw. The latter has testified that the injunction came on the West Adams street storm drain, $250,000 of which was unnecessary and were not authorized by him.

RANDALL PROTESTS

"Do you know that in sending this petition to the Board of Public Works," said Councilman Randall, "you are asking the board to investigate one of its commissioners? The Council should do the investigating when a petitioned for."

But with the time fast approaching when a new Council is to be elected and when most of the present Councilmen will be candidates for re-election, the Council decided to do, if possible, an investigation that may bring about the removal of the Parrot-Kinney-Cryer city administration.

"If you persist in sending this petition to the board," said Councilman Randall, "I demand that the board give this Council a report on the charges and send the board not to bury the petition in its file nor to be heard from again. The Council has a duty to do. It is to investigate the conduct of City Commissioners and the efficiency of city departments. This petition charges that the board of the Engineering Department is being wrecked by malicious propaganda directed from the outside for the purpose of having City Engineer Shaw removed. The Council will hear it or not."

ALAMY MAKES DENIAL

President Alamy made a statement last night denying what he called the "malicious and unprovable charges" which he said were an effort to "wreck the engineering organization by 'four men' who had seized the office and business of the corporation on November 17, and made an unsuccessful attempt to depose the president, and who were completely destroyed by the other members."

There was a conspiracy, he declared, between himself, Councilman Gadd, Councilman Dunn, or any other to bring about the removal of City Engineer Shaw. He also denied he had asked Mayor Cryer to remove City Engineer Shaw, but admitted he had written the Mayor a letter objecting to Shaw's stand against a salary rise and containing this phrase: "We are asking you to remove him and co-workers. But you recommend the addition of our salary schedule to the honorable City Council and that you place in office an engineer who is qualified to deal with his subordinates and fellow-employees in an understanding, man-to-man basis."

Other Cooper in Talk Over K&J City Requirements for Lighting Wheels

Bicycle riders were urged to protect themselves as well as motorists in the daily traffic by delivered by Cooper & H. E. Cooper over K&J yesterday in the series conducted by the police bureau of public safety. Other Cooper retorted the legal requirements for bicycle lights.

Section 90 of the Motor Vehicle Act of the State of California says: "Every vehicle when upon a public highway in this state during the period of one-half hour after sunset and one-half hour before sunrise and at any other time when there is not sufficient light to render clearly discernible a person, vehicle or other substantial object on the highway at a distance of 200 feet ahead, shall be equipped with lighted lamps and lighted headlights, as is respectively provided for different classes of vehicles."

Section 106 states that every bicycle shall, when ridden after dark, be equipped with a lamp visible from normal distance at least 200 feet in the direction toward which such bicycle is faced, and shall also carry at the rear of such bicycle a reflex mirror or a lamp exhibiting red light plainly visible from normal condition at a distance of 200 feet toward the rear."

BOY POSTAL CLERK GETS PROBATION

Cause of Led's Error in Taking Letter from Mails Laid to Footballitis

A confession that he suffered from footballitis, one symptom of sports mania, gained for Thomas R. Graham, youthful postal clerk, a stay of sentence for one year when he appeared yesterday before United States Judge McCormick and pleaded guilty to taking two Stanford-University of Southern California game tickets from the mails last month.

Postal Inspector Love corroborated the testimony of L. W. Umsted, superintendent of the post office substation at 438 South Vermont avenue, where Graham was employed, that the defendant had a prior unbroken record for honesty.

Judge McCormick commented upon the "football fever" as exemplified in the record-shattering attendance at games this fall, and cautioned Graham that he must follow a proper course during the coming year or the law's punishment would befall him.

Last U. S. Atty. Verville placed Graham on the stand and the former postoffice employee detailed how the tickets were placed in the government safe when they were undelivered because of a wrong address. Shortly before the game Graham succumbed to the "urge," but was unsuccessful in passing the gates.

College Board Tests Adopted by University

In order to further standardize college entrance requirements, the University of California is adopting the regular College Entrance Examination Board tests, which are recognized by nearly all universities and colleges in the United States as full-fledged entrance requirements.

Students seeking entrance to the university either at Berkeley or at Los Angeles after January, 1927, who have not been recommended by their high school principals will be required to take the standardized examinations. It is announced by Recorder of Facilities James Sutton.

The last sets of matriculation examinations under the old system will be conducted in January. The change is being made as a convenience to students as the college board system facilitates transfer of credits between universities.

STATE FUNDS TO PAVE JEFFERSON STREET

Requesting that the county appropriate from State motor vehicle funds allocated to Los Angeles county $15,000 for the paving of Jefferson street from McClintock street to Vermont avenue, the City Council yesterday adopted a resolution suggested by Councilman Griswell. The property owners in this district paid $112,326 for the widening of Jefferson street in this section, and as the street is a traffic artery, Councilman Griswell said it should be paved from State motor vehicle license payment funds.

ENGINEER OF COUNTY INDICTED

Flood Control Assistant Granted Bail on Forgery and False Claim Charges

C. E. Richards, former assistant chief engineer in the county flood control office, was indicted by the county grand jury yesterday on five counts of forgery and four counts of presenting false claims against the county. The total amount said to be involved in the charges is given as $145,527.

The indictment was returned before Judge Keetch, who set bail at $2500. A bench warrant was issued for Richards' appearance. He now is out on bail on the complaint previously issued.

This complaint, which was scheduled to come up in Municipal Court, probably will be dismissed now that an indictment has been returned. The case will come up in Judge Keetch's court.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Christmas Shopping
Make out your list for shopping before you start out.
And make out that list immediately and be finished shopping early.
On this list group together the articles that are purchased on the same floor.
Start your shopping on the highest floor on your list so you can use the stairway if the elevators are crowded.
For the little things patronize the stores in your neighborhood instead of trying to be waited on at the crowded counters downtown.

Ready for Charity
In every home there should be a drawer or box where worn clothing, discarded toys, outgrown articles, etc., are placed. Then when a call comes for help from some charitable institution there is not that frantic search for something to give away. The plan also prevents hoarding things of no further use to you thereby keeping your house in much better order.

More Service
If the tablecloth wears out around the edge of the table, cut off the line and use the outside portion to form a false hem about three inches wide. Slip the edge of the fold between the two edges of the fold and tuck together. Then have it hemmed along the line of hemming. You now have a splendid lunch cloth at very little cost.

Better Milk
See that the refrigerator is clean. Bring the milk in from the step as soon as possible.
Wipe the top of the bottle before removing the cap for pouring.
Keep the milk in the top of the refrigerator right next to the door. After the bottle has been opened, recover with a paper cap or a glass stopper.

Odorous
One woman cooks sauerkraut without a vestige of odor creeping into the house by simply using her laundry stove as a means of cooking instead of the gas range upstairs. It simmers away in the cellar all afternoon, but the cellar door is closed and nobody knows anything about it.

Torn Wool
If you should be unfortunate enough to tear a woolen dress, mend it with a sewing of the same material and, if carefully woven, it will scarcely show.

The Lid, Too
Don't forget to scrub the lids of the cooking pans when washing the pans. The lids are quite as important as the pans and can pick up odors and grease just as readily.

COUNCIL SEEKS TO END COMPTON FLOOD HARM

The City Council yesterday adopted a resolution presented by Councilman Golden directing the City Engineer to work out with the County Flood Control Department a plan for preventing storm water damage in the Compton district. The Councilman said that these storm waters originate in Los Angeles and come into Compton Creek from the South Main street and other storm drains.

MOTHERS AND THEIR CHILDREN

The Game of Diminishing
One Mother Says:
This is a simple campaign or bedtime game that is instructive and that children of various ages can enjoy together. The leader starts with a word such as "century" and the child next to him must diminish it by saying "year." The next says "month," the next "fortnight," "week," "day," etc., down to "second." If a diminisher is omitted, the one who sees the mistake and corrects it has an extra turn. The new cycle is started by the child who corrects the last. "Forest," "grove," "tree," "limb," "bough," "branch," "twig," "vaid" are an example, and "house," "barn," "garage," "shed," "chicken," "hen," "dog," "kennel," "doll," "house," another.

Of Interest to Women

What Women are Doing
By Myra Nye

"Charity," said Judge Goodell before a meeting of the Scroptmist Club yesterday at the Biltmore, "is a helping hand to a motherless child, we are insuring the welfare of our generation, and when we offer what I call deferred compensation to older persons who have given of their lives we are helping them to live in comfort and happiness until they can no longer do so."

Judge Goodell, whose impromptu address was on "Charity Before Charity," stated that he emphatically did not believe in institutions for the care of either children or the aged. An institution costs you $65 a month, while a child, placed in a home and cared for by a mother, costs only $10 a month. As for the aged, living conditions are far more comfortable in a home than in an institution. The aged persons who are helped by the community are those who are unable to care for themselves. In the summer time they may work, but all year this "pension" is given to them.

"Not in charity, but in justice, give these unfortunate children a chance to grow. Follow them on through life, giving them a helping hand. In this way you are not only helping the present but insuring the future, building for the years to come."

Mrs. Rose Bryant of the Big Sister's League was in charge of this very interesting program, which included, besides Judge Goodell's address, music from the Los Angeles Symphony Quartet, many details about the work of the Big Sister's League given by Mrs. Bryant. It is a league of women who are interested in the welfare of the children of the Scroptmist Club in the league. Mrs. Bryant mentioned the need for a scale for the Big Sister's League and immediately Mrs. May Matthey was on her feet offering to donate that scale from her own Professional Supply Company, while Mathilde Olsen, milliner of the club, offered twelve hats to last of the home.

CAFE NOTES

Away back in 1906, when Boos Brothers opened their first cafeteria on Second street between Spring and Broadway, their policy of carefully selected quality food, a genuine desire to see that it was well seasoned and cooked, and withal a determination to give service—to keep the smile and the cheerful word throughout the dining-room—made an instant appeal to the public and success was assured.

Ample refrigeration facilities for the casual handling and storing of meat, milk, vegetables and other perishable foods, sanitary kitchens and bakeries, well lighted and ventilated, clean and attractive dining-rooms—all of these things, and others too numerous to mention, have had their part in building up the present large business enjoyed by Boos Brothers.

AT PLANTATION CAFE
Week-end crowds at the Plantation Cafe left no doubt in the minds of the cafe management as to their approval of the new entertainment which has been brought from New York to the Culver City night club. Guests were spontaneous in applauding Helena Fosse, her six graceful beauties and a cast of splendid entertainers at the close of her clever show "Happy Go Lucky Bervae."

Buster Wilson's "Sunnyland Orchestra" were also received with great favor.

BALLY RAND HONOR GUEST
Bally Rand, film favorite, will be guest of honor at the theatrical night to be held at the Montmartre Cafe in Hollywood this evening. The evening's entertainment will be on the entertainment program, and dance followers may compete in the new Max Factor dancing contest for the attractive leather cases of make-up lotions which are being donated by this beauty specialist. Several new dance numbers from late New York musical comedy successes will be introduced and played for the first time by Fred Moore and his orchestra.

PREPARES FOR HOLIDAYS
Now the Thanksgiving is past and the annual dinner given on that day at St. Ann's Inn in Santa Ana, proved such a decided success, plans are already under way to welcome the coming holidays.

Dinner at St. Ann's Inn is always a memorable occasion on whatever day one chooses to enjoy it.

BNAL BRITH TO DANCE

Showing the Way

As Columbus demonstrated to the courtier who sought to detract from the credit due him for his discoveries, anyone can stand an egg on end—or cross strange seas—after someone else has shown the way.

The task of creating a nationwide telephone service, like that of discovering a new world, is one for the pathfinder and the pioneer. The telephone, as the modern American knows it, has been made possible by the doing of a multitude of things in the realms of research, engineering and business administration that had never been done before; by patiently working out an endless succession of seemingly unsolvable problems.

Only because of its willingness and ability to lead the way in telephone development has the Bell System been able to provide America with a nation-wide, universal service that sets the standard for the rest of the world.

COHN STORY IS BEAUDINE'S FIRST

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Gives New Director Jewish Play;
Harold Lloyd to Tour Europe Incog, Sans Specs;
Jason Robards Wins Great Role

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Naturally anybody starting to work under a new contract is on tip-toe to do his best, and therefore William Beaudine has been looking anxiously for a story to film as his initial venture under his new directorial contract with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Yesterday he announced with a flourish to Harry Rapf that he was sure he had found it, and was willing and eager to tell the world about it. The story is an original one by Al Cohn, called "Prison Sally Lewy," which is being narrated by Cohn and Vernon Smith. The story is a comedy romance, and will be given an elaborate production, although the players are not yet selected.

This tale is another of Jewish metropolitan life. As you remember, Cohn wrote a smashing hit in "His People," and it looks as though "Prison Sally Lewy" is due for another big success.

Beaudine is noted for such productions as Mary Pickford's "Little Annie Rooney," "How Baxter Bought a Wife," and others. He recently returned from New York where he directed Thomas Meighan in his latest Paramount vehicle.

Harold Lloyd Wants Privacy

When Harold Lloyd goes abroad, he is going to accomplish that journey incognito. At least he is going to keep as much under cover as possible.

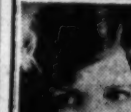

His wife, Mildred Davis, will accompany him, and together they plan to visit the little-known, out-of-the-way towns of England and France, studying the lives of the people, and getting a knowledge of the home life of these people as lived in the rural communities.

Lloyd does not find it hard to preserve his identity a secret, inasmuch as people are always expecting him to wear his comedy spectacles.

R. F. Schulberg Announces

R. F. Schulberg, chief western Paramount executive, has just returned from a much-honored stay in Margaret Morris these days. Miss Morris is signed to a long-term contract with Paramount, but she seems to be spending most of her days on the P.B.O. lot.

Edwin King first borrowed her for her part in "The Magic Garden," which J. L. O. Meacham directed. Then, when she was again borrowed to play the feminine lead in "Hello, Bill," the super-feature which P.B.O. has been months preparing, "Convoy Train," as already announced, will have the title role, and Ralph Ince will direct.

Writers Assigned to Jobs

John McCormick, general manager of First National West Coast studio, has just purchased the Saturday Evening Post story, "Once There Was a Princess," by Juliet Wilbur Tompkins.

This is writer's week at First National. Tom Gibson, who wrote the screen versions of "Kid Boots" and "The Palm Beach Girl," for Paramount, has been put under contract by McCormick to write the continuity of Ray Rockett's first western production, which is expected to start soon. Definite choice of the story has not yet been made.

McCormick has also signed Rex Taylor to write the continuity of "The Road to Romance," which will be a Charles R. Rogers production for First National. The adaptation of "The Butcher and the Boy" has gone to Gerald G. Duffy.

Rose Dione in It

Rose Dione, the noted French actress, has been engaged by Joseph M. Schenck for an important part in Norma Talmadge's current starring vehicle, "Camille," which Fred Niblo is directing.

Dust from volcanic eruptions has been known to travel 500 miles through the air.

ASPHALT MEN FORM SOCIETY

Officials of Oil Companies Among Members

Organization to Work With Eastern Interests

John R. Keane President of Coast Association

Completion of the organization of the Western Asphalt Association, including in its membership the officials of several large oil companies and all the large Southern California asphalt paving contracting firms, was announced yesterday.

Officials of the association are: President, John R. Keane, manager of the Pan American Petroleum Company, who for several years has been a prominent factor with Pacific Coast asphalt plants and their equipment.

The hearing is being conducted by Judge J. McMillan, state commissioner of corporations, following receipt of a number of complaints from growers, and to determine whether the association's actions are unfair and dishonest, that the contract with growers has been violated, whether the permit under which the association does business has been violated.

Details of the new association, President Keane said yesterday.

"Asphalt plants and their equipment in Southern California now represent an estimated value of approximately $10,000,000. Asphalt is a direct by-product of the oil industry of Southern California, which represents a property and investment of almost $200,000,000.

The object of our association will be in all lawful ways to promote generally the use of asphalt.

CO-OPERATE WITH EAST

"It is further the purpose of this organization to co-operate in every way possible with the Eastern Asphalt Association, with headquarters in New York City, which is guided by such large companies as the Standard Oil of New Jersey and the Atlantic Refining Company.

The petroleum industries have taken a deep interest in road building, with a realization of the fact that the building of good roads, and also the distribution of their products necessitates good roads."

ACTRESS WHO TELLS OF WORD FROM DEAD

Film Director Comes to Support of Former Wife of Rudolph Valentino

Faith in the assertion that spiritualistic messages from Rudolph Valentino have been received by his former wife, Winifred Hudnut, was expressed yesterday by Henry Hoyt, motion-picture director, who knows Miss Hudnut and George B. Wehner, the medium through whom she received the messages.

Hoyt based his belief yesterday on his knowledge of Wehner's mediumistic powers and upon his faith in Miss Hudnut's sincerity. He stated he would not enter a discussion as to the merits of spiritualism or spiritualism because he had little interest in the matter. However, he said, he felt it due Miss Hudnut to say something in her favor after the comments that greeted her assertion.

Hoyt stated he directed Miss Hudnut in a picture in New York and that while there he dined with Miss Hudnut, her mother, Olive Brook, an actor, and Wehner. After the dinner, he said, Wehner, upon request gave a seance.

"I had never taken any particular interest in seances," Hoyt said yesterday. "I have attended the average number and come away told."

Further, the director stated, he came away convinced that Wehner was sincere. He appeared more like a business man than a spiritualist.

Bible Teacher Held on Auto Theft Charge

Details of a young welfare workers' dual life that changed him from a teacher of boys' classes for the Los Angeles Church Federation in the daylight, to a carefree, pleasure-loving joy-rider in stolen automobiles, were unfolded yesterday when Elton C. Uilom appeared before Municipal Judge Ballard for preliminary hearing on a charge of grand larceny.

Uilom was arrested at Huntington Beach last week and was charged with having instigated the theft of between thirty and fifty automobiles when Harold Walton, 16-year-old student of the defendant, made a statement to police disclosing the Bible school workers' activities.

All of the cars were stolen purely for the purpose of joy-riding and "picking up" girls, Walton said. Uilom also is charged in the boy's statement with having snatched several purses from women within the past three weeks.

The welfare worker is 23 years of age, lives at 2108 Lida Lane, Glendale. He was held to answer in the Superior Court and bail was set at $1500 by Judge Ballard.

SON OF WOE MEETS LADY LUCK

Judge Suspends Sentence When He Hears List of Misfortunes That Have Dogged Steps of Prisoner Accused of Liquor Possession

The lot of Job and his far-famed bottle was a veritable bed of roses compared to the experiences of A. B. McNeely as he recounted them one by one to Municipal Judge Turney yesterday when he entered a plea of guilty to possession of a pint of liquor.

McNeely stood before the bench, his face draped with a weebone expression of long standing, his voice as melancholy as his appearance, in a long gray overcoat of ancient cut and design.

"Judge, first I may say that I caused my own arrest," McNeely said after admitting possession of the whiskey. "My wife calls me Jiggs and I call her Maggie. She has a dog that bites me every time we have a quarrel when she gives it orders—and besides she's bigger than I am and can whip me any time."

The other night we quarreled and I lost as usual and was afraid of her, so I called the police and told them there was a disturbance at my home. When they came they found the pint of whiskey in my bed."

"I was a prosperous business man here for twenty-five years until, through no fault of mine, I lost most of my money and tried ranching. But ranching was just one thing after another. I came back to Los Angeles and my hard luck still went on."

McNeely told the court he had suffered in succession the following misfortunes: Three broken fingers, one broken nose, three broken ribs, one broken collar bone and paralysis of one leg. He added his father and mother are both seriously ill.

And to show the court his run of bad luck was still trailing with him, McNeely lifted his right hand. The thumb was badly mangled and bruised.

"Just this very day, Your Honor," he explained, "some one in jail slammed a heavy door on my hand and mangled this thumb."

Visibly moved by McNeely's recital of his woes, Judge Turney imposed a fine of $100 which he immediately suspended.

McNeely burst into tears and insisted on shaking hands with everybody before he left.

THREE RUNAWAY GIRLS DETAINED

Huntington Park Trio Picked up in Overall and With Dollar Apiece

Three runaway girls were picked up by police early yesterday at San Fernando Road and Dayton Avenue and turned over to Juvenile Hall. They were Althea Pederson, 16 years of age; Vivian Lee, 16, and Robert Wilton, 18, all of Huntington Park.

The girls were dressed in overalls and had their hair cut short. Each of the strays, the police said, had $1. They left their homes, it was said, late Monday night.

Countal of his woes, Judge Turney imposed a fine of $100 which he immediately suspended.

McNeely burst into tears and insisted on shaking hands with everybody before he left.

CHIEF DAVIS GIVES NINE PROMOTIONS

Longuevan of the detective bureau is made Police Inspector in the new arrangement, and Detective Lieutenant Henry McPhillips is made assistant captain of detectives.

The transfers affected two sergeants, eight motorcycle officers, twenty-seven patrolmen and fifteen detectives. Chief said, most of them made at the request of the men affected.

Artistic Readings H
Radio Audience

BY MAE PRYCE BROWN

The Woman's Press Club of St. Louis presented a special program at KLLC last evening.

Leitha Journey First in charge of the radio work last year, with Adeline Smith were responsible for the success of the evening.

The individuality and charm of the Russian and Ukrainian folk songs and ballads offered by Madame Adams were outstanding. Madame Adams, a Russian soprano, has been singing in the Los Angeles music world since 1924. Her songs from French, Italian and Russian operas, winning the admiration of the most discerning musical literature.

The artistic readings given by Mrs. Adams were delightful sketches from modern literature. She was the first evening to show her talent as a reader. Her reading voice is music in itself. Adams' beautifully phrased voice is music in itself. The singing voice of the woman soprano is a rare gem. The soprano has made for herself a name through their beautiful interpretation.

St. Louis needs no more of this kind of thing. The St. Louis audience is the best in the world. The St. Louis audience is the best in the world. The St. Louis audience is the best in the world.

of her work in "mother pictures has endeared her to the public. Her reading last evening was a masterpiece. Her voice is a masterpiece. Her voice is a masterpiece. Her voice is a masterpiece.

apha and Omega," from "The Jester," by Robert B. Jones, was a masterpiece. The moving pictures shown to the audience that evening were a masterpiece. The voice, neither deep nor light, was a masterpiece. The public to see the effect of the voice. The expression—so one in the face—was a masterpiece. The charm in either case was lovely.

in the singing of Madame Adams, the studio presentation was a masterpiece. The tenor voice of a soprano was a masterpiece. A veteran of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, the Chapman returned to the Municipal Grand Opera at St. Louis. Since

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

ON SEPT. 8, 1862, WHILE THE ADVANCE GUARD OF LEE'S CONFEDERATE ARMY LED BY
"STONEWALL" JACKSON WAS MOVING THROUGH
MARYLAND TO INVADE THE NORTH, GEN. POPE'S
FEDERAL "ARMY OF VIRGINIA" AFTER ITS DE-FEAT AT THE 2ND BATTLE OF BULL RUN WAS RETREATING HOPELESSLY TO WASHINGTON.

AS THE UNION ARMY NEARED THE CAPITAL IT WAS MET BY GEN. GEORGE B. MCCLELLAN, WHO HAD COMMANDED THE "ARMY OF THE POTOMAC" IN THE UNSUCCESSFUL PENINSULAR CAMPAIGN AGAINST RICHMOND, RIDING OUT WITH ORDERS TO SUPERCEDE POPE. HE WAS GREETED WITH ROUSING CHEERS BY HIS OLD REGIMENTS.

MCCLELLAN'S MISSION WAS TO INTERCEPT LEE AND HE AT ONCE BEGAN A REORGANIZATION OF THE UNION FORCES WHICH WAS COMPLETED BY SEPT. 10TH. HE THEN SET OUT ON THE MARCH AND REACHED FREDERICK ON THE 12TH, SEVERAL DAYS AFTER THE SOUTHERN ARMY HAD PASSED THROUGH.

AT FREDERICK ON THE NIGHT OF SEPT. 13TH A LOST DISPATCH FROM LEE TO'D H. HILL. FOUND BY A FEDERAL SOLDIER, WAS BROUGHT TO MCCLELLAN. IT REVEALED LEE'S PLANS AND SHOWED THAT THE CONFEDERATE ARMY WAS DIVIDED.

These daily history strips make a unique pictorial history of America. Hundreds are clipping them daily and pasting them in scrapbooks.

CAPTORS OF 'ARMY' WILL BE HONORED

BY MAE PRYCE BROOKS

The 9-to-10 hour brought the weekly visit of Harry James Beardsley, baritone. The feature of his program was his own setting, or paraphrase, of the Twenty-Third Psalm. Not only does Mr. Beardsley sing well, he plays piano with much feeling and beauty of tone—it seems to come

ASSERTION

DESERTION CHARGED BY MRS. MEYER

*New Suit Echo of Fight
by Wife Canceling Divorce Obtained by Husband*

Echoes of the sensational suit in which Mrs. Kittie Meyer of South Pasadena won a revocation of a divorce decree her husband, Jacob Meyer, had obtained while she was in Europe, were heard yesterday when Meyer filed action for divorce, claiming Meyer has deserted her and she has taken refuge in Mexico with most of her property.

When Meyer sued he named John Keller as correspondent, and in her petition to set the decree aside Mrs. Meyer asserted her husband had argued her relations with Keller with a view to divorcing her in mind. Later she said she made the mistake of going with this action in September, she admitted, when Meyer offered her a property settlement and a reconciliation.

Under the terms of this arrangement Mrs. Meyer says she was to receive $25,000 and an allowance of $250 a month and she and her husband were to move to San Francisco. She says the $25,000, she says, but the allowance is no longer paid and Meyer has refused to let her see any of the two of their five children are McPherson City, where he had inherited $250,000 in real estate and has $20,000 of other property.

Mrs. Meyer says her husband used to declare he should be married to "a slight and slender" woman. But crowning insult, she says, was his recent remark: "King Solomon had thousand wives and I have only one." Besides a divorce, she wants property settlement voided, $500 monthly alimony, custody of all five children, and $5000 fee for her attorney, Henry Hayes.

McPHERSON CASE FILING POSTPONED

stipulation extending the time the filing of the information met Almee Sample McPherson and co-defendants setting forth conditions whereby upon which they will tried before a jury became effective yesterday when the document signed by Dist.-Atty. Keys and filed as a record in the Superior Court.

Mr. Keys signed the document after Lorraine Williams, confessed murderer of the Carmel "Miss X" case, affixed her name to the stipulation following the signature of her the terms of the stipulation, the District Attorney's office is given until the end of the month to prepare the information against Mr. McPherson, heretofore, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, and Wiseman. The extension of time for the filing of the information was asked by Mr. McPherson, her attorney, and their chief defense attorney, W. J. Keyes.

When time was asked by Mr. Keyes for the filing of the papers in view of the technical nature of the information which necessitated additional time to prepare. Under the stipulation it should have been filed in Superior Court not later than December 15.

The extension of time means that Mr. McPherson and the other defendants will not be arraigned on the charges until January 10, and that trial probably will not get over until after the latter part of February the first week in March.

THEir NEIGHBORS FIND FAITH MEETING

More than three thousand friends and well-wishers, composed of neighbors of Angola Temple and business men of Echo Park-Sunset Boulevard distinguished Angelo Temple McPherson at his last night to express faith, sympathy and confidence" in evangelist.

The unique defense idea was announced after an enthusiastic meeting by Mrs. Grace Kewlin, editor of the "People's Voice" and J. W. Kersaid that a petition, as the official expression of the Public Defense Committee, had been prepared signed by residents and business of the Angola Temple neigh-

Kerwin said. Principal speaker at the evening included Attorney F. Denny and U. S. Hughes of Land Park.

McPherson responded to the assembly by tracing the history of Angelus Temple from its inception to its completion as a landmark of the Beho Park-Sunset Boulevard.

Complaints for Producer Asked in Wage Dispute

Following testimony by four chorists that Michael Corper, producer musical revue "Monkey Business" was produced at the Theatre several weeks ago, when $100 each as back wages, the City Labor Commissioner yesterday sent the girls to City. Prosecutor Connonan said that complaints he issued to the producer charging non-payment of wages.

The same time Commissioner ruled that sixteen girls by chorus girls against Corbich, with the four totaled were legitimate claims for dues.

Four chorines who appeared Ruth Marion, Gays Sibald, Mary and the amount of pay during in the play for two days it run here and two weeks played San Francisco.

ING BONDS FAIL TO ATTRACT BIDDERS

Any bids? Any bids? might well be the auctioneer's cry of the City of San Francisco as a result of action yesterday announcing that the city is willing to sell $181,000 of bonds long ago voted for the improvement of streets in the Westgate district. So far no one has come forward to buy the bonds. Assistant Attorney Whitehead said, and people of the district are anxious to see their streets paved.

Ladies' Legs Are No Longer News

STYLES must change—and skirts may go up or skirts may come down—but never again will ladies' legs be news! The grace and comfort and freedom of modern woman's dress are symbolic of an even greater change in her mind and spirit.

Now, as always, you can best read the mind of a woman in her clothes. For clothes to a womanly woman are the clearest expression of her most intimate personality.

Go look at the portrait of your mid-Victorian great-grandmother in her frame of massive gold. Voluminous skirts, sweeping the dust and dirt of the street and floor. Flounces and frills and furbelows. If she had a personality, it was well effaced by what she wore! Do you wonder that she was given to the vapors, and that her idea of meeting an emergency was a convenient fainting spell? Naturally, she was her husband's ideal of the helpless clinging vine. And, of course, she had no legs—perish the thought! At the utmost stretch of the imagination she walked upon her "limbs".

Aren't you glad you're a modern woman? Imagine yourself swaddled in petticoats, caged in crinoline, armored in whalebone, bandaged in mantle and shawl.

Well may you praise the year in which you were born! But watch your step as the years go by. Old fogey age does not wear crinoline today, but it is not dead yet by any manner of means.

To each and every one of us comes the hour when we must meet the challenge of youth. Then you must decide whether you will stay young at heart—or grow older and sadder with the years. Much depends on the spirit in which you meet the challenge—and the help that you seek and find.

Delineator is on the side of youth! It is planned and edited for the woman who means to stay young. It looks forward—not back. It is the magazine of the alert, interested woman who is forever seeking new ways and new means to further the art of gracious living.
